Freeway Plan For San Rafael Urged, But With Changes

By JOHN CHAMBERS

Adoption of the State Division of Highways plan for adding four freeway lanes on the west side of Highway 101 through San Rafael—but with over a dozen changes—was recommended to the San Rafael City Council by engineer Daniel P. Coleman last evening.

In a two and one-half hour report, the San Francisco engineer laid his plans before the council and asked for their reactions.

"A tremendous job," said Mayor John F. McInnis. "Let us have your final report as soon as possible."

Coleman said the report including freeway recommendations and a master streets and highways plan should be ready in six weeks.

He was hired by the city four months ago at $8.50 an hour with total cost not to exceed $15,000.

"I think we are getting our money's worth," said Councilman Charles W. Aby. Councilman Fred Jensen agreed.

Coleman's informal report to the council at the city hall yesterday drew some 20 spectators, mostly residents of the Dominican area.

He stressed the need for an expanded freeway to meet already overcrowded traffic conditions, but cautioned: "Even this eight-lane freeway will be filled to capacity in 20 years."

The state project—estimated at about 14 million dollars—calls for widening of Highway 101 to eight lanes from California Park overpass at the south entrance to the city to Puerto Suello Hill.

Coleman recommended the following conditions and alterations be imposed on the state plan:

1. Complete landscaping of the freeway.

2. Connect Villa Avenue with San Pablo Avenue by a service road.

3. Relocate the railroad south of Puerto Suello Hill to give room for the proposed rapid transit line.

4. Change proposed Linden Lane off-ramp to direct traffic to Lincoln Avenue directly into the underpass instead of the state's plan to funnel it into Grand Avenue.

5. Reconstruct Linden Lane underpass and install a well-lighted pedestrian walk along the south side of the underpass.

6. Construct freeway at present grade level or below from Mission Avenue north.

7. Convert area between one-way collector street (between Mission Avenue and interchange) and east line of the freeway under the viaduct to a parking lot with state funds.

8. Acquire all properties on the south side of Second Street to an on-off ramp area to enable street to handle traffic load.

9. Construct two main east-west ramps of future east-west freeway immediately at least as far as D Street. He said the new route should be constructed to San Anselmo as soon as possible.

10. Reduce the proposed three level interchange at Irwin Street to two levels.

11. Build on-off ramps connecting the future east-west freeway with Lincoln Avenue (which may mean relocation of Lincoln between Second and Irwin Streets so not to crowd future ramps at D Street).

12. Coordinate design of the future east-west freeway at main interchange with rapid transit plans so high-speed trains can get under the ramps.

13. Acquire northwest corner of Second and Irwin and southwest corner of Third and Irwin to improve turning movements to and from Irwin Street.

Coleman broke down freeway construction into two stages and urged that the first stage construction be started as soon as possible and not five years from now as outlined in state plan.

Included in stage one are construction of parking area under the viaduct, one-way north-south collector street from Mission to the interchange, northbound on-ramp at Mission Avenue and Irwin Street and reconstruction of the southbound ramp at Mission Avenue and on-off ramps at main interchange south of Second Street.

Also called for are construction of Second Street from Lincoln Avenue to Irwin Street and construction of Grand Avenue from Third Street across the canal to Francisco

Ike, Kennedy Hold Talk On Major U.S. Problems

LISTENER—President-elect John F. Kennedy listens as President Eisenhower fills him in on major U.S. problems during a meeting today at the White House. (AP Wirephoto)

Cabinet Appointees Brought Up To Date

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and President-elect John F. Kennedy canvassed the nation's major problems in a White House conference today lasting more than two hours.

When he came out of the conference, Kennedy told reporters that he and three of his top appointees had had "the opportunity to get the thinking of the president and the responsible officers of the government on some of the major problems facing the United States."

Kennedy, bronzed and smiling, was asked how he feels with his inauguration as president scheduled tomorrow.

"Very good," he replied. A reporter asked if he was excited. "Interested," Kennedy replied with a broad grin.

JOINT STATEMENT

A joint statement issued by the press secretaries of the outgoing and incoming presidents said that world areas discussed at the conference included Far East, Africa, Western Europe and the Caribbean.

Eisenhower and Kennedy met alone first in the president's office. Then they met in the cabinet room with the incoming and outgoing secretaries of state, treasury and defense for continuation of their discussions.

UP TO DATE

The statement said that during their discussions, the president-elect and the incoming cabinet members "were brought up to date on a number of matters affecting the security of the United States."

It was the second time Eisenhower and Kennedy had met for pre-inaugural discussion. They conferred for nearly three hours Dec. 6. Today's meeting lasted about two hours and 15 minutes.

Among the problems touched upon today, Kennedy said, was the outflow of gold. He said this was touched on briefly.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS

Kennedy said, in reply to a question, that the talks were virtually restricted to foreign affairs as distinguished from domestic problems.

He said that Eisenhower and his associates had offered to continue to help in any way they could after leaving office, if the new administration had any questions they could answer.

He indicated, in reply to a question, that there had been no discussion of any specific mission Eisenhower might undertake for him after returning to private life.

Suspect Seized In Shootings At University

BERKELEY (AP)—Police today arrested John Harrison Farmer, 34, and said he told them he killed a University of California graduate student and wounded an English professor with a sawed-off shotgun yesterday. (Earlier story on page 9.)

Farmer, who has kinky red hair, was apprehended in the Berkeley hills.

Asked whether he had shot two men at the university, he inquired whether any one had died.

Informed that Stephen Mann Thomas, 29, a graduate student, had died, Farmer told officers:

"Well, I guess I'm the guy you are looking for."

Chief Frank Woodward of the University police said Farmer told him he once attended a class taught by Prof. Thomas F. Parkinson, 40, who was shot in the face.

A man described as stocky with bushy blond hair, invaded Parkinson's office yesterday, shot Thomas fatally and wounded Parkinson in the face.

Then he fled.

Farmer was spotted in the Berkeley hills today by a motorist, who noticed he was carrying a rifle.

Officers said the man refused to give a motive for the shooting.

MIDNIGHT PLEAS SPURNED

Mill Valley Reasserts Position On Job Exam

Two former Mill Valley City Council members failed in midnight pleas last night to exempt City Fiscal Officer John Hoopingarner to taking an examination March 18 to qualify for appointment as finance director.

The city council turned down 3-to-2 a motion by Councilman Michael Wornum that the selection board be directed to approve Hoopingarner and that he be appointed to the new position without examination. Mayor Robert D. Huber voted with Wornum for the motion. The vote was identical with that two weeks ago which ordered the examination for Hoopingarner.

The two former council members who urged Hoopingarner's appointment are Robert R. Laughead and Mrs. Elizabeth Rodman.

Laughead declared: "I believe Hoopingarner to be a competent employee. If not, he would not be in his present position. I feel the council should have blanketed him in that position and left it up to the city manager to appoint him.

"The examination places Hoopingarner at a disadvantage. If he doesn't place in the top three, he's out of a job."

Mrs. Rodman, saying the Mill Valley League of Women Voters has taken a position in favor of strong city manager government, asserted:

"I believe the council is now interferring in the administration. If I were to see this sort of thing continue, I would feel that, in effect, our city manager was becoming a clerk to the council or perhaps office manager and not city manager. I feel strongly in this, strongly enough to alert the league to watch the situation."

Councilman Joseph E. Sheeks took issue with Mrs. Rodman. He said the appointment will still be made by the city manager. The examination, he said, protects the manager because "no one can come back and say you picked someone on the basis of favoritism." The job

REPORT OF GUN BRINGS LAW ON RUN; ONLY FUN

"A sailor just walked into the Tasty Donut Shop holding a gun behind his back," said the excited voice over the telephone at 2:30 a.m. today.

San Rafael police raced to the doughnut shop at 841 Fourth Street. The phone caller, James S. Todt of 1547 Fourth Street, was waiting for them outside.

He pointed through the window. A sailor stood at the counter. A nickel-plated gun lay on the counter by his hand.

Guns drawn, Sgt. Carl Selby and Officers James Carlton and Richard Douglas entered the store. Carlton leaped to the sailor's side, grabbed the gun from the counter.

It was a toy model of a .38.

The sailor? Oh, he was Charles S. Daniels, a longtime friend of the family, explained Mrs. June Townsley, the shop owner.

L.A. Man Named Aviation Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy today chose Najeeb Halaby of Los Angeles to be chief of the Federal Aviation Agency.

Halaby will succeed E. R. Quesada, who recently became part own of the new Washington baseball club and resigned his federal post.

Marin Woman Accused Of Tax Evasion

A federal grand jury in San Francisco named Mrs. Katherine W. Clever of Atherton Avenue, Novato, a San Rafael public accountant, as one of a long list of defendants charged yesterday with tax evasions.

The charge against Mrs. Clever is that she failed to file income tax returns over a period of four years. Asst. U. S. Attorney James B. Schnake said she owes $6,778, going back to 1952.

Eleven northern Californians were included in the indictment list. Among them were:

Thomas A. Small, of San Mateo, secretary-treasurer of Local 340, Bartenders and Culinary Workers Union, accused of evading $7,000 in taxes on his $28,000 income from administering the union welfare fund in 1954-57.

Mrs. Marie Rose Gaspar of Saratoga, Santa Clara County, 1949 president of the San Jose Women's Council of the National Assn. of Real Estate Boards, who filed no tax returns in three years of total alleged income of $53,116.

Charles Dreyfus, disbarred San Francisco attorney, indicted for failure to file in 1954-57 during which his income allegedly exceeded $90,000.

Dr. Herbert B. Henderson, prominent San Francisco Negro physician, charged with evading $4,899 in taxes mostly through fictitious refunds to patients.

INAUGURATION MAY TAKE PLACE IN SNOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Snow began falling in Washington this morning, and the Weather Man gave the crowded city this glum news: "Several inches of mixed snow and sleet may accumulate before the hour of President-elect John F. Kennedy's inauguration tomorrow.

But come snow or sleet, the capital was squared away for one of its biggest celebrations.

Laboring under overcast skies, amid falling snow, workmen applied the last touches to the construction that has turned Capitol Plaza into a vast outdoor area for the inauguration ceremony.

Illegal Surgery Suspect Charges Frameup Plot

A Belvedere grandmother, accused of performing illegal abortions, declared today she is being framed by a former acquaintance, who tried a $4,000 blackmail scheme against her last month.

Anita Venza, 54, of 140 Bayview Avenue, hinted at blackmail when arrested Tuesday night, and elaborated again today in an interview in Marin County Jail.

The twice-convicted abortionist is accused of performing illegal surgeries on two young Marin stenographers last September and October in Belvedere, getting $400 for each.

"The first two times (1950 and 1955) I did it, and I admitted it," she said. "But on this beef I'm innocent . . . Somebody in San Rafael informed on me."

The "somebody," she said, is a divorced father of two children. She said she knew the man from Sonoma County, where she was convicted of abortion in 1955. At that time, he had referred some patients to her, Mrs. Venza related.

"If I ever get hold of him, I'd like to kill him," she fumed. She identified him as a former boy friend of the two women

Superintendent Of Kentfield Schools Quits

Harold R. DePue, superintendent of the Kentfield School District, is to submit his resignation Monday night to accept the post of superintendent of the Oxnard Elementary School District in Ventura County.

Mrs. Watson Conner, district board president, said official action is expected at the trustees' meeting to release DePue from his three-year contract. He became fulltime superintendent of the Kentfield district last July 1.

If his contract release is approved, DePue will assume his new position July 1 at an annual salary of $15,500. His Kentfield salary is $13,500.

The Oxnard district has 11 elementary schools, with about 6,000 pupils. Kentfield has three schools and about 1,300 pupils.

DePue will succeed Dr. Richard Clowes, who goes to Sacramento Feb. 1 as associate state superintendent in charge of the Division of Instruction. An active superintendent will fill in until July.

Mrs. Conner said applications for DePue's successor will be called for next week, and March 10 will be the target date for completion of screening.

Negotiations for DePue's services have been in progress since December, she reported, and included an informal meeting in Kentfield between Oxnard board representatives and the local board.

DePue was with the confed-

Ike Proud, But Ready To Shed Role Of 'Mr. President'

By SAUL PETT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two weeks ago President Eisenhower was visited in the White House by his old army friend, Gen. Omar N. Bradley, now a corporate executive.

"Brad," the president asked, "how do you like your job on the outside?"

The word "outside" was given a special kind of emphasis, a yearning, an envy, a vicarious relish, the way a man in jail a long time asks about the world beyond the walls.

"Mr. President," said Bradley, "it's wonderful. Oh, there are still decisions to make but I don't have to make them the day they're brought in. I can take several days or even weeks to make up my mind."

And the president said, marveling, "that must be wonderful!"

The incident, aides and associates agree, is the best single mirror of Dwight D. Eisenhower's mood in the last days of his administration. He is about to close out a half century of public service and 20 years of awesome burden, and he can't wait. He has been counting the days.

He leaves with a variety of other emotions but the overriding one appears to approach relief. He hungers to relax and escape tension. He longs for the luxury, denied him most of the past 20 years, of living without fear that a mistake could imperil a civilization or nation or army or single platoon of men.

He leaves with a conviction of having done his best, with pride in much of his record (fiscal policy, relative containment of the Soviets and no shooting war involving America) and a deep, abiding disappointment that in his eight years the world came no closer to real peace.

He leaves, too, with some sadness, with a feeling of inner sentimentality that he rarely shows in public.

He leaves with a private affection for the old house, to which he returned after two serious illnesses and a minor stroke, in which he and Mamie Eisenhower had the longest single stay in their 45 years of much traveled married life.

He leaves with a warm hope of privacy and a soaring expectation that he can now play golf without criticism.

What will he miss most? He will miss, we are told, the fringe benefits of command and the presidency. He now leaves the vast executive machinery of government, a top personal staff of 20 and scores of subordinates. After tomorrow, he will have only two or three people on his staff to call on for help.

He goes from a choice of airplanes (prop, jet or helicopter), trains, naval ships and cars to his Gettysburg farm, where the Eisenhowers have one car, one station wagon and two jeeps.

He goes from the immense power and prestige of the White House to a farm in Pennsylvania where, despite continuing fame and relative comfort, a man's ego will have to make its own private adjustment.

Slowly, day by day, the era called the "Eisenhower years" has been ticked off in a series of farewells. He has said goodby personally to more than 1,000 people, government executives and their families who came in to shake his hand for the last time.

He has accepted innumerable resignations and responded with expressions of gratitude, which inevitably will be framed and hung by the owners as their golden link with history.

Slowly, it ends. Yesterday was Dwight Eisenhower's last presidential press conference (his 193rd). The day before was his last signing of a treaty (his 106th). The week before was his last cabinet meeting (his 227th). Ten days before that came the last of his big presidential decisions, to end diplomatic relations with Cuba.

Day by day, the physical White House has lost the personal touches of the outgoing first family and remains somewhat suspended impersonally until the new first family makes its tastes known.

Of their personal possessions, all that remains of the Eisenhowers' are their clothes. Tons of private papers and gifts and souvenirs have been moved by van to the museum and library in Abilene, Kan., or to their house at Gettysburg, the first home they ever owned.

From the presidential living quarters on the second floor of the White House, movers already have carried out their hi-fi set and electric organ, on which the first lady used to play. These were the only two large pieces of furniture that the Eisenhowers owned in the president's house. The rest belongs to the government.

SHARING LAUGH — President-elect John F. Kennedy and Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson, share a laugh as they got together at a pre-inaugural reception in Washington last night. (AP Wirephoto)

Vice President-Elect Handy With Handshake

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson had the biggest reception of his political career last night—and he shook hands in double-time to keep up with it.

Thousands jammed the street outside and the corridors of the Statler-Hilton Hotel in a teeming crush to get to a big Texas wind-ding — the biggest thing so far in pre-inaugural partying.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn and the Texas State Society of Washington invited 6,000 guests at $5 apiece.

President-elect John F. Kennedy got the party off to a good start with a 12-minute stint in the receiving line.

In the lineup were incoming Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall and Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg, ex-President Harry Truman, his wife, Bess, and daughter, Margaret Truman Daniel.

Rusk was summarily ordered to move along by a policeman on receiving line duty who didn't recognize him. He got a shove as well, but took it all with a quiet smile.

Johnson shook hands for almost two and one-half hours, perspiring but game and smiling to the end.

The party spread over the first floor and featured 16 bars and nine buffet tables.

"It's a crime," one woman said as she watched Johnson using a hand-over-hand technique to speed up the line of hand-shakers.

Toward the end Johnson propelled the line forward in double time, using both hands and virtually pulling people past him. No one seemed to mind in the friendly atmosphere.

B-52s ON CONTINUOUS IN-THE-AIR ALERT

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — The Strategic Air Command now has B-52 bombers on an around-the-clock airborne alert in keeping, its commander says, with United States policy of preparedness to reduce to an absolute minimum time required to respond to an attack on the nation.

Gen. Thomas S. Power, in announcing the airborne alert yesterday, did not say how many bombers are in the air at any given time and SAC headquarters would neither confirm or deny the presence of nuclear weapons on the aircraft.

"But we can say the training is conducted under the most realistic conditions possible," headquarters added.

All combat-ready crews are being utilized in the program that keeps each bomber in the air for a 24-hour period. Refueling is by KC-135 pet stratotankers. About two dozen bases scattered over the nation are being used.

Demos Back Rayburn Rules Committee Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House Democrats yesterday all but ended a party-splitting feud over control of the powerful rules committee.

At a closed-door party caucus, the Democrats overwhelmingly endorsed Speaker Sam Rayburn's plan to liberalize the rules committee by adding two Democrats and a Republican to the 12-member panel.

Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) said after the session that the full house was certain to approve the expansion, probably next week.

The caucus turned into a major victory for Rayburn and liberal Democrats, who are trying to break up a GOP-Southern Democratic coalition which dominates the rules group and threatens president-elect John F. Kennedy's legislative program.

Without the membership increase rules chairman Howard W. Smith (D-Va.) and Rep. William M. Colmer (D-Miss) along with the four Republicans, would continue to be able to block House consideration of liberal-backed proposals.

The new committee lineup, provided the House approves the Rayburn proposal, would be 10 Democrats and five Republicans, instead of the present 8-4 party ratio. If Smith and Colmer voted with the Republicans, the liberal-moderate Democrats still would have an 8-7 edge.

Fireman Gets Raise

Tiburon Fire Protection District commissioners last night granted a $10 a month pay raise to fireman Clyde Coverdale, the increase from $415 to $425 to be effective Feb. 1, according to commission secretary Kelly J. Wheeler. The commission also authorized payment of current bills totaling $278.

Church Speaker

James Watt of Washington, D.C., a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship, will speak at 8 p.m. Jan. 28, at First Church of Christ, Scientist, 1618 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael. His lecture on "Christian Science: Its Limitless Promise," is open to the public.

Marin Sergeant To Be In Parade

M/Sgt. Louis C. Regalia, son of Peter Regalia of San Rafael, will participate in the presidential inaugural parade tomorrow.

Regalia, stationed with the 1100th Field Maintenance Squadron at Bolling Air Force Base, Washington, D. C., will take part in an Air Force wing unit march.

Optometrists Slate Meeting

Marin optometrists will meet colleagues from throughout the state at the 56th annual Congress of the California Optometric Assn. to be held at Jack Tar Hotel in San Francisco Feb. 15 through 18.

Dr. John W. Hoag of Mill Valley, president-elect of the San Francisco Optometric Society, announced that the conference will devote 29 hours in education and business sessions and study more than 50 special exhibits.

An awards luncheon will honor the optometrists of the year and the optometric society of the year.

New Management Running Eatery In Corte Madera

Tia's Coffee Shop at 60 Corte Madera Avenue, Corte Madera, is under new management.

New owners Martin Grinstead and Sid Carson of Buena Vista Avenue, Corte Madera, took over operation of the restaurant this week.

The words "and gallery" have been added to the name of the shop, Grinstead said, to indicate that the policy of holding art exhibits in the restaurant will continue under the new ownership.

Grinstead, formerly from Richmond, Va., has lived in the San Francisco area for a year, and worked in the billing department of Irving Lundborg and Co., San Francisco stock brokers. He was in the restaurant business in Richmond 12 years ago.

Carson, originally from Fort Walton, Fla., has lived in the Corte Madera area about seven years. He will continue to work as a sales engineer for Angus Campbell, Inc. in San Francisco and be in the restaurant part-time. Grinstead will operate Tia's full-time. Assisting them will be Mrs. Lena Mondrogon of San Rafael.

Tia's formerly was operated by Mrs. Bonnie Margolis and Mrs. Estherella Crist.

CAPITAL AFLUTTER FOR BIG INAUGURAL

Excitement Reigns As Politicians, Entertainers, Visitors Pour In

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Inaugural-excited Washington today is full of sights and sounds and colors — bunting-decked avenues, souvenir vendors, parties, celebrities, bewildered tourists and, most of all, problems.

On the eve of John F. Kennedy's inauguration, the capital is jammed with crowds, visitors looking for a place to sleep and a place to eat, and the best-known faces of the entertainment and political worlds rushing to receptions.

Officials estimated that a total of one million persons would witness Kennedy's swearing-in at the capitol at noon tomorrow and the parade afterward, which will feature some 32,000 marchers, mules, a dog sled, space vehicles and just about everything in between.

The biggest worry troubling inaugural parade planners is the weather.

The weather bureau said there was a "good chance" snow would fall here this afternoon or tonight and possibly continue into inaugural morning, but stop before the oath-taking. However, the bureau said it didn't expect the snowfall to amount to much.

Another problem is where to put all the people swarming here to see their next president.

Every hotel room is booked. A few rooms in motels and private homes are available but are going fast. The inaugural housing committee is sending tourists to hotels 40 miles away in Annapolis and Baltimore, Md. Some 1,800 West Point cadets are housed in 72 pullman cars on a siding.

The more famous made reservations far in advance. And there are plenty of celebrities here, ranging from former Presidents Harry S. Truman and Herbert Hoover, Mrs. Eleanore Roosevelt, Mrs. Woodrow Wilson and former vice president Henry A. Wallace to entertainers Frank Sinatra, Tony Curtis, Jimmy Durante, Janet Leigh and Gene Kelly.

The first two big inaugural events — to be attended by Kennedy and his wife— will be staged tonight.

First the Kennedys planned to go to the inaugural concert at Constitution Hall. The program will feature Mischa Elman, pianist Earl Wild and the world premier of overture "From Sea to Shining Sea," played by the National Symphony Orchestra.

From there, the Kennedys will drive across town to witness the much-heralded inaugural gala staged by Sinatra and Kennedy's brother-in-law, actor Peter Lawford. The Democrats hope to wipe out part of their $2.5 million debt from the $10,000 boxes and $100 seats.

In addition to Sinatra and Lawford, the cast — billed as one of the greatest collections of stars on one stage—will include Harry Belefonte, Milton Berle, Leonard Bernstein, Nat King Cole, Ella Fitzgerald, Mahalia Jackson, Durante, Kelly, Curtis, Miss Leigh, Frederic March, Ethel Merman, Sir Laurence Olivier, Louis Prima and Helen Traubel.

Meantime, dozens of parties are being held in hotels and private homes. Democratic women took over the National Gallery of Art last night for a reception honoring the party's famous women. The mother's of president - elect and Mrs. Kennedy attended along with Mrs. Truman, Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson's wife, women members of Congress and the wives of Kennedy's cabinet and sub-cabinet members.

While inaugural officials worried about things like keeping the parade from lagging and chasing starlings from the parade route, 5,000 secret service agents, police, detectives and military forces made elaborate plans to protect Kennedy during the hectic inaugural events.

Secret service agent Stuart Knight said any parade marcher who tried to duplicate cowboy Monte Montana's 1953 inaugural feat of lassoing President Eisenhower risked being "hurt or even killed."

Death Penalty To Be Asked For Suspected Kidnaper

BAKERSFIELD (AP) — Dist. Atty. Kit Nelson says he intends to ask the death penalty for Richard Arlen Lindsey, 30, but hasn't decided about Lindsey's pregnant wife, Dixie Elaine, 23.

Both are accused in the kidnap-slaying last week of Rose Marie Riddle, 6.

Funeral services will be held in Shafter tomorrow for Rose Marie.

Nelson said yesterday he will go before the Kern County Grand Jury next Tuesday and ask indictments for kidnaping and murder. This would take the case directly into superior court, bypassing a preliminary hearing in municipal court set for Feb. 1.

Sheriff's officers said Lindsey, who has a prison record in Texas, admitted that he raped the Riddle girl after abducting her from a farm labor camp a week ago. Mrs Lindsey has denied her husband's statement that she helped disrobe the child and bludgeoned her when she whimpered, the officers reported.

Assembly Republicans Unveil Broad Program To Cut Taxes

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Assembly Republicans today unveiled a broad program to cut 48.2 million dollars yearly from California's tax take.

Assemblyman John A. Busterud (R-San Francisco) introduced four measures to trim 45 million dollars a year from state revenue.

Another Republican, Assemblyman Milton Marks, San Francisco, announced plans to offer a fifth measure to cut 3.2 million dollars from state and local taxes.

The action came in the face of repeated statements by Gov. Edmund G. Brown that there is no room for a substantial reduction in state taxes this year.

Brown has announced his support only for a measure that would exempt prescription drugs from the state sales tax.

Busterud said virtually every Republican in the lower chamber—as well as some Democrats—had co-authored his four tax relief measures.

The major bill would allow taxpayers to take a 10 per cent credit when they pay their 1961 taxes in 1962 at a cost to the state estimated at 27.7 million dollars.

"This will be a great stimulus if the recession continues to worsen, which I don't think it will," said Busterud. "I'm convinced that there is going to be a rather dramatic upturn."

A second proposal by Busterud goes somewhat further in the same field as the measure by Assemblyman Byron Rumford (D-Berkeley) which Brown supports.

It would eliminate the state sales tax from all prescription drugs and prosthetic devices such as artificial limbs and eye glasses. This would cost 9.3 million dollars in state taxes and 4.5 million in local taxes.

Two other bills proposed by Busterud would cut the corporation franchise tax from $100 to $50 a year at a cost to the state of $3 million annually and cut from $50 to $20 the tax on issuance of corporate securities at a cost of $500,000 a year to the state.

Marks' bill would allow smokers to deduct from their federal and state income taxes the three cents a pack tax on cigarettes. This was estimated to cost the state and local governments 3.2 million dollars a year in taxes and would save consumers 8.7 million dollars in federal taxes.

Busterud, chairman of the Republican assembly caucus, gave a strong hint that these bills probably won't be all of the tax trimming program pushed during the 1961 session by Republicans. He said he personally favored bills by Sen. James McBride (D-Ventura), dean of the legislature, which would make income taxes conform with federal taxes at a cost of five million dollars a year.

Medical Care Bill For Aged Is Introduced

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A catch-all bill for medical care for the aged was introduced in the legislature today with the support of Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

The bill, co-authored by Sen. Joseph Rattigan (D-Santa Rosa) and Assemblyman John Williamson (D-Bakersfield) would extend medical care to several thousand aged Californians who do not receive state pensions.

The lawmakers said more than 250,000 Californians who receive old age security benefits now are covered by a federal-state medical care program approved by the 1960 Congress.

Under the new bill, the program would be extended to all Californians over the age of 65 whose average monthly income does not exceed the maximum state pension, plus the cost of medical care.

It was designed to complement any future program of medical care for Social Security beneficiaries that might be enacted by Congress.

A bill to set up a state program tied to Social Security—if Congress does not approve such a move on the federal level—was introduced in the legislature yesterday by Assemblyman Carlos Bee (D-Hayward).

State Health Insurance For ...lders Urged

SACRAMENTO (AP) — State health insurance for California's older citizens was proposed in the legislature yesterday.

Assemblyman Carlos Bee (D-Hayward), who introduced the bill, said it would benefit about 1,025,000 persons receiving social security benefits.

The program would be financed by employers through a 1 per cent tax on employee payrolls up to $6,000 annually.

Bee said his legislation will not be needed if the Kennedy administration succeds in its proposed addition of health care.

The state legislation provides for free choice of doctor. Hospital benefits for a qualified person would include up to 60 days of care.

Other benefits would include nursing services, oral surgery, drugs, medicines, appliances and ambulance.

JUST KEEPING POSTED

Brown Denies GOP Spy Plan Charge

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The governor's office denied Republican charges that Gov. Edmund G. Brown was scheming to set up a spy system to keep tabs on legislators.

The Republican charges yesterday followed a printed report that two of Brown's aides asked department representatives to report on conversations with legislators and lobbyists.

A spokesman for the governor, who is in Washington, said the representatives merely had been asked to keep Brown posted on "comment or suggestions on administration measures" they might hear.

The GOP howl came from Sens. John F. McCarthy of San Rafael and Richard Dolwig of Redwood City and Assemblyman Joseph Shell of Los Angeles and John Busterud of San Francisco.

They said a system of informers would wreck the tradition of free discussion and confidence between department heads, their advisors and legislators.

Anderson Plans To Run Again

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Lt. Gov. Glenn M. Anderson tossed an early season hat into the state political ring today.

"My intention is to run for reelection," he said.

Anderson is acting governor during Gov. Edmund G. Brown's inaugural week trip to Washington.

Blood Plan Chairman Makes New Appeal

The blood you give can help save the life of a friend, a neighbor, or a child, such as the 13-year-old San Rafael girl severely burned while cooking a surprise breakfast for her parents a week before Christmas.

This renewed plea for blood donors came today from Mrs. Kenneth Denman, chairman of the Marin County blood program. The Irwin Memorial Blood Bank, sponsored by the San Francisco Medical Society will be in San Rafael tomorrow from 2:30 to 6:30 p.m. at the Elks Club, Fifth Avenue and B Street.

Blood supply is dangerously low because of the upsurge in accidents and emergencies during the holidays, Mrs. Denman said.

One such accident struck the family of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Lemler of Locksley Lane, San Rafael, last Dec. 18. Their daughter Ann, 13, was enveloped by flames while cooking breakfast. She has so far received 20 units of blood. She has lived a nightmare of pain and undergone surgery three times. Today, her life hinges on luck, courage and blood.

"Ann's accident could happen to any teen-ager," Mrs. Denman points out. "That is why residents of Marin are reminded that volunteer blood donations are necessary to keep a blood reserve available at all times."

Annex Vote Due 1,960

A total of 1,960 residents of Terra Linda will be eligible to vote March 7 on the question of annexing to San Rafael.

According to County Clerk George S. Jones, 1,960 voters were registered as of registration deadline last Thursday.

Last June, Terra Linda had 1,796 registered to vote. Last November, the figure had risen to 1,998.

Bagley Introduces Grand Jury Measures

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—A measure to provide a $5 fee and expenses for grand jurors attending committee meetings has been put into the legislative hopper by Marin-Sonoma Assemblyman William T. Bagley.

The measure, requested by the Marin Grand Jury, would pay the fee and mileage to jurors not only for full meetings of the jury, which they now receive, but for the study sessions as well.

Two other Bagley measures dealing with the grand jury are already in. One is a legislative measure which allows between three and nine jurors from one grand jury to serve on the following year's jury. But no juror would be allowed to serve on more than two juries in succession.

Purpose of having some members continue would be to provide continuity from one jury to another, something not now accomplished, Bagley said.

The other measure is a constitutional amendment which would have to have approval of the voters before this legislative measure would be effective. The constitution at present prohibits serving on successive grand juries.

City Turns Down Street Maintenance

A narrow, unimproved alley with drainage ditch down the middle has been turned down for city maintenance by Novato councilmen.

Some residents with garages on the alley wanted the city to take over to guarantee future access. But councilmen decline, saying they would not consider unless the alley had paving, gutters and clear title. The alley runs from Franklin Street to Lamont Street.

CANCER FATAL

Disease Fighter Dr. Dooley Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Thomas Dooley, young doctor who battled disease in the Laos jungle even when he himself became ravaged by crippling cancer, died in his sleep last night at Memorial Hospital.

Death came just one day after his 34th birthday.

Dooley, brought to the hospital Dec. 27 wearing a brace from shoulder to hips, insisted he was going to continue his work if his "iron maiden" enabled him to get around—and characteristically added:

"I am not going to quit. I will continue to guide and lead my hospitals until my back, my brain, my blood and my bones collapse."

Dooley's dedication to relieving the plight of the underprivileged and ailing began seven years ago while he was a Navy doctor.

He spent a year of premedical training at the University of Notre Dame before serving (1944-46) as a Navy medical corpsman attached to the Marines.

Upon leaving service, he studied at the Sorbonne in Paris for a year. A native of St. Louis, in 1953 he was graduated from the St. Louis University School of Medicine.

Dooley rejoined the Navy as a lieutenant (j.g.)

In 1954, at the end of the war in Indo-China, his ship aided in evacuation of refugees from Communist North Viet Nam.

Seeing — and feeling — the plight of the hundreds of disease-wracked inhabitants of the area made up Dooley's mind.

After leaving the Navy in 1956 Dooley wrote a best-selling book, "Deliver Us From Evil." He used the book's proceeds, and supplies donated by pharmaceutical firms, to return to Laos with three former Navy buddies and set up a small hospital at Nam Tha.

For his work with the refugees, Dooley won the Legion of Merit, and was the youngest officer in the history of the Medical Corps to receive it.

Dooley turned over his first small hospital in 1957 to the Laotian government. Then it was back to this country to raise more funds. He lectured and appeared on TV.

In 1958, with Dr. Peter Comanduras, a Washington, D.C., physician, he founded MEDICO (Medical International Cooperation Organization), a nonprofit agency.

Dooley had raised more money with another best-seller, "The Edge of Tomorrow," and returned to Laos to establish a hospital in the village of Moung Sing near the Chinese border.

At first there were only mats for beds, but Dooley considered this his own hospital. It soon was handling 100 patients a day.

It was back again to the United States for more lectures and fund-raising.

In 1959 a $10,000 annual award Dooley received from an insurance firm went to another MEDICO hospital in Kenya. But that same year he learned that a tumor on his chest was malignant. A New York operation was termed successful and he went back overseas.

Even though told by some doctors his cancer was arrested, he remarked to newsmen that his type of cancer was the fast-growing kind, but added:

"I figure that what I have crammed into my life makes me really 65."

He managed to get his own plane and flew back and forth directing the hospitals. An admittedly avid fund-raiser, he once wryly described himself as "begging, bumming, borrowing and, from time to time, just stealing a bit" for his and other MEDICO hospitals.

Dr. Dooley spoke in Marin Nov. 19, 1959, after a Dominican College student raised enough money for him to make an appearance at the college. The money went to benefit child patients in Laos. Dr. Dooley urged his audience to "listen to the voices of this world . . . the voices of conflict—the agony and suffering and the dying . . . (in order to) do something to achieve . . . order, rest and peace . . . ")

DR. THOMAS DOOLEY
Lost his battle

Last November Dooley, in Hong Kong to discuss a new hospital program collapsed from exhaustion. Came the brace and a diagnosis of "bony destruction to the vertebrae."

After a funeral mass at St. Louis Cathedral, Dooley will be buried in Calvary Cemetery beside his father, Thomas A. Dooley Sr., and a brother, Earle, killed in Germany during World War II.

Gunman Kills U.C. Student; Professor Hit

BERKELEY (UPI)—A graduate student was shot to death and an English professor was seriously wounded yesterday by a man who entered the professor's office at the University of California with a sawed-off shotgun.

The assailant ran out of the Dwinelle Hall office past three other professors shouting, "Get out of my way or I'll kill you." He escaped and was not immediately identified.

The dead man was Steven Mann Thomas, 29, of Ukiah. He was struck in the back by the shotgun blast and died in the emergency ward at Herrick Hospital.

Prof. Thomas F. Parkinson, 40, had part of his jaw ripped away by a second shot from the weapon. He was reported in fair condition at Peralta Hospital in Oakland.

The shooting occurred in Parkinson's office directly below the one vacated earlier this week by former university chancellor Glenn Seaborg, who was appointed chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Hub City Man Involved In Big Fraud Case

Frank Stark, 55, of 76 Brookmead Place, San Anselmo, surrendered to federal officials in San Francisco Tuesday in connection with an investigation of a 25-million-dollar fraud case.

Stark, one of five men indicted in Los Angeles on securities fraud charges last Friday, was arraigned before U.S. Commissioner Donald B. Constine in San Francisco.

He was released on $10,000 bail and ordered to appear with the other officials of the Los Angeles Trust Deed and Mortgage Exchange for a hearing in the U.S. District Court in Los Angeles.

Stark was formerly vice president and manager of the company's San Francisco office. He has lived at the San Anselmo address for two years with his wife and 17-year-old son.

San Rafael attorney Thomas E. Schaal represented Stark at the arraignment Tuesday.

Operations of the trust deed firm have been subject to civil litigation since 1958. The parent firm and two subsidiaries were reorganized after being ordered into receivership.

The company's president, vice president, comptroller and executive assistant to the president are charged along with Stark in selling trust deeds which were not what they were represented to be.

A government attorney said the companies guaranteed investments in prime 10 per cent interest-bearing deeds of trust which would provide income for life. He said the guarantees were made in advertising and by mail.

Civic Center Cost Collection Detailed

Eighty per cent of the funds needed to build the county office building at the civic center site in Santa Venetia have already been collected in the "pay as you go" tax program financing the project, reported Leon A. deLisle, county auditor, today on radio station KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board."

The office building is the first phase of civic center construction.

DeLisle and other members of the newly reinstated Marin County Civic Center Committee reported on the progress of the civic center project. The committee was dismissed Jan. 10 by a three-to-two vote of the Marin County Board of Supervisors and reinstated Monday by the same tally.

The program will be rebroadcast from a recording Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

DeLisle explained that 40 cents per $100 assessed valuation will be charged by the county this year to complete this civic center project.

He noted that only two bond issues have been passed in Marin County in a 90-year period. One was passed in 1880 as a "subvention for the North Shore Railroad being built from Sausalito to Cazadero" and the second in 1925 for construction of roads in unincorporated areas.

County Administrator Alan Bruce predicted: "The people now expect and will have a cautious approach by the board of supervisors . . . a slowing down in the recent rapid pace of progress."

Bruce said that "those bitterly opposed to the civic center are a vocal minority" and the "majority of the people of Marin County have no feelings on the civic center, negative or positive."

Speaking on the background of the civic center project Mary Summers, county planning director, recalled that an investigation in 1956 showed that the county government then needed 100,000 square feet to operate and "right then was crowded into 59,000 square feet."

The new civic center office building provides 160,000 square feet, noted Marvin W. Brigham, public works director.

Answering a listener's question as to why "an exorbitant priced architect like Wright" was considered, Mrs. Summers said the construction cost was $23 per square foot," comparable to the $23.7 per square foot for the courthouse addition. She added that it cost $25 a square foot to erect the San Bruno City Hall.

Reporting on the progress of the construction project, Brigham said that the placing of concrete and steel "is 60 per cent complete."

Douglas Maloney, assistant county counsel, reported that legal matters concerning the Civic Center project "were not particularly complex" and that even the one-week work stoppage ordered by the board of supervisors would not provoke "too complex problems."

Three Students Have Honors At Entrance

Three San Rafael students have been presented "Honors at Entrance" awards at University of California.

Anne-Marie Dale of 448 Fairhills Drive, Oriville Frank Grimes Jr. of 1660 Grand Avenue and Marille Jo Michael of 216 Mountain View Avenue, have been selected along with 504 other students for earning an "A" in all but one of the high school subjects on which their admission to the university is based.

Litchfields Divorced; Assets Divided Just About Equally

The battling Litchfields, owners of Bermuda Palms Motel in San Rafael, reached a final parting of the ways yesterday with just about a 50-50 split of community property.

Judge Richard M. Sims of Marin Superior Court gave Diane L. Litchfield, 48, a final decree of divorce, granting her a Cadillac, four apartments and the family home at 200 Valley View Avenue, San Rafael.

Irving B. (Whitey) Litchfield, 49, gets the half-million-dollar Bermuda Palms Motel and liquor license, several lots in East San Rafael, a car, truck and construction tools. He must pay $100 per month for support of their son Bradley, 14, and his medical expenses.

The judge found Litchfield in contempt of court for failing to keep up his temporary support payments to his wife while the case was pending. Litchfield has until Feb. 15 to make up the arrears.

The division of property leaves Mrs. Litchfield with an estimated $196,000 net worth, and Litchfield with about $189,000.

The total assets of the Litchfields were listed as almost a million dollars, but heavy mortgages on their properties cut down the net worth to a total of about $385,000.

Bermuda Palms, for example, carries a $307,000 mortgage, according to court records.

Mrs. Litchfield was represented by Wallace S. Myers, while Litchfield was defended by John G. Buresh.

They were married in Carson City, Nev., in 1937 and separated in 1957. The motel is a well-known night spot on Francisco Boulevard. Their apartments are at Mission Avenue and Laurel Place in San Rafael.

Litchfield also faces State Labor Code violation charges in Marin Municipal Court. A complaint filed by the district attorney yesterday accuses him of failing to make health and welfare fund payments for his employees. Litchfield is scheduled to appear in court next Wednesday to answer the charge.

Measure Submitted Against Pornography

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The newspaper industry's own plan to combat the sale and distribution of pornographic literature and pictures was presented to the legislature yesterday by Assemblyman Glenn E. Coolidge (R-Felton).

Coolidge said the bill was a simple one which merely changed a couple of words in the law. He said it provided sale or distribution of pornographic literature was illegal if it is done "wilfully and knowingly," rather than the present law, which reads "wilfully and lewdly."

District attorneys have said the present law is ineffective. Coolidge said the bill has the general support of district attorneys.

The bill also will have the support of the California Newspaper Publishers Assn. which in the past, has opposed bills on pornographic literature on grounds they were censorship.

"This bill is simple and understandable," said John B. Long, general manager of CNPA. "It is not hysterical. It will make enforceable the anti-pornographic feelings of all our people.

"It simply corrects two deficiences in the present law, closing loopholes through which purveyors of pornography have crawled," he said.

Long said the bill also would include reference to pictures or prints to the law which apparently had been omitted in the past through an oversight.

Coolidge said his only co-author on the measure was expected to be Assemblyman Sheridan N. Hegland (D-La Mesa), former publisher.

Another bill on pornographic literature has been introduced by Assemblyman Louis Francis (R-San Mateo). It is similar to bills Francis has carried unsuccessfully in the past which have been opposed by CNPA on grounds they inject censorship into the law.

Drunken Driver Draws $158 Fine

Charles Harold Brown, 21, of 25 Redding Way, San Rafael, must pay $158 fine and not drive for 90 days because of drunken driving.

He was sentenced yesterday by Judge Joseph G. Wilson in Marin Municipal Court. Brown was involved in an accident on Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, on Jan. 2. The judge also put Brown on nine months probation.

Suit Against Marinites Dismissed

Two Marin County officials are breathing easier today as result of dismissal by an Alameda County Superior Court yesterday of a suit which might have cost them money. The estate of a deceased Fairfax police chief shared in the jeopardy.

Involved were Coroner Frank J. Keaton, Police Chief Clifton C. Cordes of Fairfax and the late Chief Andrew J. Peri of Fairfax. They became principals, along with Oakland Police Chief Wyman Vernon and other officers in a false arrest suit in which Mrs. Jesse E. Trout of Fairfax demanded $100,000.

Gist of the defense, in which Marin County Counsel E. Warren McGuire participated, was that Mrs. Trout was merely "detained" and not arrested and that the detention was reasonable under the dramatic circumstances.

Oakland police accompanied by Keaton, Cordes and Peri went to the Jesse Trout home the night of Dec. 23, 1957, and took the Trouts to Oakland. Mrs. Trout was released after less than a day but Trout was tried three times involving one conviction in the second trial—which was later reversed on the ground that it hinged on a conviction deemed to have been extorted through detention of Mrs. Trout.

Trout was acquitted Jan. 6 after his third trial, in which the confession could not be used as evidence in view of the finding involving Mrs. Trout.

Unification Study Due In Tomales

The possibility of unification of the Tomales High School District and elementary school districts in northwest Marin was discussed Monday by trustees of the Tomales Union School District.

Trustees "can see unification coming," Mrs. Roy Parks, clerk of the board, reported. Under unification. All grades from kindergarten through high school are administered under one school board.

The Tomales Union and Marshall districts have scheduled a Jan. 24 election to decide on unionization of the two districts. Both are in Tomales joint union high school district

Terra Linda To Hire Recreation Director

Terra Linda Recreational District directors voted last night to hire a recreational director and two volunteer coordinators.

The board, meeting at Bernard Hoffman School, postponed selection of a new date for the $233,000 recreation bond issue election. It has been postponed until some time after the March 7 election on annexation to San Rafael.

Board chairman Walter J. Fairweather said the district needs a paid recreation director for the summer and a volunteer to coordinate maintenance of the two park sites.

He said the board also wants a volunteer to coordinate the summer recreation program with the Dixie School District and the San Rafael Recreation Department's plans at Terra Linda High School.

No salaries were set.

Parks Chairman Is Reappointed

Mill Valley Mayor Robert D. Huber last night reappointed Joseph C. Brewster as chairman of the city's parks and recreation commission on the expiration of Brewster's first term.

Mrs. William B. Allen of 337 Magee Avenue was appointed to fill the vacancy left by Mrs. Martha Postel, who will leave the commission after serving two terms.

TAKES FIRST JET RIDE AT 133

Pitty-Pat, the elderly Manx-tabby pet of Mrs. Billie Raymond, owner of El Camino Motel in San Rafael, took her first plane ride this week at 133—the feline equivalent of that extreme age, that is. Pitty-Pat is 19, and each year of a cat's age is supposed to be roughly equal to seven years for a human. Reason for the jet trip was that the Paymonds left Pitty-Pat with friends in Kansas while on a vacation trip, then couldn't pick her up. So she flew home by United Air Lines, and was content as ever today, unbothered by the fast ride. (Independent-Journal photo)

Cuba Accuses Six Yanks Of Plot To Join Rebels

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's government announced today it is holding six Americans accused of sailing to Cuba Jan. 7 to join counter-revolutionary forces here.

The announcement said all six were seized in Havana the day after they made a pact in Florida with a Castro foe, former Sen. Rolando Masferrer, to join other dissidents trying to overthrow Castro's regime.

The announcement identified the six as George R. Beck, 24, Norton, Mass.; Tommy L. Baker, 28, Dothan, Ala.; Donald Joe Green, 28, Clover, S.C.; James E. Beane, 34, Cedar Falls, N.C.; Alfred Eugene Gibson, Durham, N.C.; and Leonard Louis Schmidt, 21, Chicago.

Castro's cabinet needled the United States with a series of new decrees.

In a session lasting until after midnight, the cabinet:

1. Ordered all Cubans and foreigners employed on the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo and living outside the base to get special work permits from the Cuban government.

2. Ordered all other persons entering the base — meaning Cubans trading with it—to get special permits.

3. Ordered dissolution of the Cuban-American Cultural Institute, charging it has been converted into a propaganda outlet for the State Department.

There are 228 institutions of higher education in the United States for men only and 252 for women only. Co-educational institutions number 1,531.

Larkspur Appoints Recreation Members

The Larkspur City Council last night appointed Paul Otis of 25 Wiltshire Avenue and Mrs. Dorothy Meyer of 107 Pepper Avenue to the city recreation commission.

Otis, a real estate salesman, fills the vacancy left by the resignation of Jack Barry several months ago. Mrs. Meyer replaces Mrs. Roger Barbey, who has resigned because her activities on other committees do not give her time for the commission.

The council also received the resignation of Martin O'Brien from the commission last night, but did not fill the vacancy. O'Brien gave press of business as his reason.

Councilman Neil Brixon was named representative to the assn. of Bay Area governments and Council James T. Lienkaemper alternate. Councilmen indicated they would support San Rafael Mayor John F. McGinnis for the county representative to the association.

The planning commission, which met briefly just before the council session, elected Vaughn Marker as chairman and James Chesnut as vice chairman for 1961.

In other business, the council:

1. Approved paying expenses up to $60 for City Manager Ronald E. Piper to attend the annual state convention of city managers Feb. 15-17 in Fresno.

2. Approved a request from Pieper to close the city hall business office next Wednesday through Friday to permit cleaning and painting. A clerk will remain in the police department office to answer phones.

3. Approved by a 4-to-1 vote payment of dinner expenses of six persons who plan to attend the Marin County Planning council dinner meeting tonight in Sausalito. Councilman Lienkaemper opposed the motion. Mayor Arthur E. Storhaug said he thought at a future council session a policy should be set on how many persons should be sent to such meetings.

4. Authorized payment of expenses for Peter Krug, chairman of the recreation commission, and planning commissioner S. W. (Bud) Eason, who will attend a University of California Extension Workshop Jan. 27 in San Francisco on green belt and recreation problems in the Bay Area. Eason said he planned to go at his own expense, but councilman Daniel Allen said he did not think this should be done. "If the city wishes to pay me, I'll accept it," Eason said.

5. Approved payment of $25 expenses for Ward H. Austin, College of Marin president, to attend a civil defense instructors training course in Alameda. Austin, in a letter, said he would be available to go in February. The state would pay half the $50 cost. After completing the course, he would be available for 13 months as an instructor or to help set up a civil defense program in Larkspur, Austin wrote.

6. Voted in favor of designating San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis as county representative to the Assn. of Bay Area Governments.

7. Discussed the purchase of services from municipal data processing, Inc., of Los Angeles for processing assessment bonds, and put action over until Feb. 1. Councilman George D. Monardo urged the city to use the system, saying it would be a money saver.

8. Approved warrants totaling $29,212.

Measles, Mumps Reported In Marin

Eight cases of mumps and three cases of measles were reported last week to the Marin County Health Department, Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer, said today.

Six of the mumps cases were in San Rafael, one in Fairfax and one in Corte Madera. The measles cases were in San Rafael, San Anselmo and Kentfield.

Also reported were a case of meningococcal meningitis in San Rafael, a case of mumps meningitis (which sometimes follows) on the Tiburon Peninsula, and a case of streptoccic infection in San Anselmo.

No Decision On Mill Valley Plan Problem

The Mill Valley City Council last night discussed but failed to act on whether to continue its contract for planning services from the county planning department or hire Robert Cornish, its present consultant on updating the master plan.

The council put the matter over to Feb. 1 for further study.

The county is now charging about $340 a month, but an increase in fees is expected soon to bring the figure to about $400. Cornish is asking $450 per month for employment on a part-time basis.

The planning commission recommended hiring Cornish. The county planning department is expected to finish about Feb. 1 those projects on which it is now working for Mill Valley.

The council also:

1. Adopted unanimously an amendment to the business license ordinance to exempt any teacher of dancing, music, elocution, dramatic art or the sciences from paying a business license fee.

2. Agreed to choose a three-man selection board—a judge, a chief of police from a city of similar size to Mill Valley and one Mill Valley citizen—to set up an examination for police chief. James P. McGowan is to retire as chief May 1.

3. Set a meeting with McGowan to discuss the police force reserve and other police problems for Jan. 30 at 7:30 p.m.

4. Changed from Feb. 15 to Feb. 21 next month's second city council meeting to allow City Manager A. E. Almcrants to attend a state meeting of city managers at Fresno.

5. Refused to provide a policeman without charge to the Mill Valley Teens for their dances, now held three times a month and proposed to be held weekly at the American Legion Hall.

6. Voted in favor of designating

$12 MILLION TO BE SPENT AGAINST SMOG

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Control Officer Benjamin Linsky of the Bay Area Smog Control District said yesterday industries in the six counties will be required to spend more than 12 million dollars in the next five years for smog control.

He said 300 medium and small operators do not meet the district's new regulations. He also noted that 20,000 in- He also noted that of 20,000 incinerators in various uses only 200 meet design requirements.

Queen Appoints Successar To Canterbury Archbishop

LONDON (UPI)—Queen Elizabeth today named Dr. Arthur M. Ramsey, archbishop of York and an advocate of Christian unity, as the new archbishop of Canterbury. He will succeed Dr. Geoffrey F. Fisher, who announced his retirement earlier this week.

Dr. Ramsey will take the church office from the 73-year-old Dr. Fisher, who has been Archbishop of Canterbury and primate of all England since 1945. Dr. Fisher, who was the first Anglican archbishop of Canterbury to meet with a Roman Catholic pope since the split centuries ago, last Tuesday announced his decision to retire on May 31.

While the nomination by the queen is tantamount to election, Dr. Ramsey still must be passed upon by the dean and chapter of Canterbury.

Courthouse Use Control Ordered

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday ordered a tightening of control over use of courthouse rooms for night meetings of non-governmental groups.

County Clerk George S. Jones reported damage had been done to trial exhibits left over night in Superior Courtroom of Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. when a crowd of more than 300 gathered the evening of Jan. 11 to organize the Citizens for the Civic Center.

Two maps left in the courtroom were torn, said Jones. He reported the room was used without advance notice or permission, after the crowd proved too large for the supervisors' chamber which had been reserved for a presumably routine meeting of the Advisory Committee on the Development of Marin County.

Mrs. William J. Lawler of Oak Ridge Road, San Rafael, who was present at the meeting, arose and denied that her group had actualy taken over. The meeting was moved to the courtroom still under chairmanship of Leslie J. Meszaros of the Advisory Committee on Development of Marin County, she said, and no impropriety had been committed by the protesting citizens.

"The courts have control of their courtrooms and I think they can enforce it," said Supervisor chairman William D. Fusselman. "If we don't supply a courtroom, for instance, they can order the sheriff to build one for them."

Jones said he had formerly exercised close control of night meetings, but the situation had got out of hand and "four or five meetings are happening nightly at times." He promised to resume close control and instruct the night watchman as to what rooms may be used.

Fred C. Robbins of 1207 Fourth Street, San Rafael, discussed the county's bad debt bills from the standpoint of a professional collector. He recommended investigation "to see where you're going" before taking any hasty action on a recommendation by Tax Collector-Treasurer M. F. Donohue that a collector be appointed under auditor supervision.

"I think it will cost more than the $1,000 you're talking about," forecast. "A time and motion study should be made."

Jones said that though Donohue cited 854 delinquent accounts on the unsecured roll, totaling $53,773.12, of these 357 cases involved under $10 and there were only 125 "big money cases" of $50 and up. It was decided Robbins and the finance committee should check all angles.

Marin County may have a new ordinance on waste disposal within the next 60 days, sanitation chief William Desmond said after discussion of details with the board.

The proposed ordinance would entail repeal of emergency legislation of 1944 and is aimed particularly at problems created by arks. Desmond said he had discussed it with officials of Sausalito, Ross, Larkspur and Corte Madera, in an effort to keep county and city laws in harmony.

A key point Desmond advanced was a definition extending the ordinary meaning of the word "building" to include vessels kept in one location and used "for purposes other than water travel."

Scouting Awards Given Two For Service To Boys

Order of merit awards and citations for outstanding service to Marin boyhood have been presented to Louis Wayers of Mill Valley and Thomas Barfield of Bolinas by the Marin Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

The awards, of which there are two a year in the Southern District of the Council, were made by Howard Lisle of Tiburon, chairman of the awards committee.

Wayers, who lives at 9 Amicita Avenue, received the honor for his efforts as a trainer, commissioner and troop committee chairman. Wayers, currently chairman of Troop 28 of Mill Valley, has a son, Louis who is an Eagle Scout.

Barfield has been in Scouting more than 30 years, having served as council advancement chairman and council vice president. He has also served as a neighborhood commissioner, merit badge counselor and as troop committee chairman of Bolinas Volunteer Fire Department Troop 23. He is new vice president of the Marin Council. Barfield has two sons who are Eagle Scouts, William and Thomas.

Sheriff's Aide Named To Juvenile Bureau

Deputy Sheriff Harvey Teague of Novato was confirmed unanimously by the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday to be head of a new juvenile bureau in the county sheriff's office with the rank of inspector.

Provision for this post was made in the 1960-61 budget but Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos had delayed appointment "to be sure it had the right man. In Teague he felt he had "an excellent choice," he told the board.

"We want to send youngsters to juvenile hall only as a last resort," said Mountanos, appearing on a board summons after a letter nominating Teague had been read. "We want to work out problems with the parents where possible.

"We have mostly wonderful youngsters in Marin County and we don't want to mark them for the rest of their lives for some small slip. Only in the case of repeaters do we want to send juveniles to the hall."

Several on the board, familiar with Teague's record of work with Boy Scouts, expressed enthusiam over Mountanos's choice.

Teague's salary will be increased from $506 monthly to $530 by the appointment.

Chairman William D. Fusselman surmised that Teague would "keep a card index, top secret" and Mountanos said "he will set it up with cooperation of the cities, seeing all the records."

"Keeping it strictly confidential," Fusselman stressed.

"It will be just for juvenile officers to work from," said Mountanos.

Mountanos said in his nomination letter that Teague was hired July 1, 1955, that he has worked with Boy Scouts for 15 years and is now district commissioner for the Northern District of the Marin Boy Scout Council. He has been married nine years and has three children.

Housewives Organize For Center

Formation of a "Housewives for the Civic Center" organization was announced today by the group's acting chairman, Mrs. Walter Conner Jr. of Tiburon.

"Our group started in protest to the supervisors' stop-work action on the civic center," Mrs. Conner said. "However, continued public support for the project will be needed in future months, and we plan to augment our group, even though work has again started at the civic center."

Mrs. Stanley Dick was named secretary of the group. Membership is open to housewives throughout the county, said Mrs. Conner.

Girl, 15, Attempts To Steal Whisky

A 15-year-old San Rafael girl tried to walk out of Littleman's Market in Santa Venetia with her large handbag bulging with three bottles of whisky yesterday three bottles of whisky Tuesported yesterday.

The girl told Deputy Sheriff Harold Goerndt took the liquor "on the spur of the moment." She is being held in Marin Juvenile Hall on a charge of shoplifting.

William Wade Jr., assistant manager of the store, stopped the girl when she tried to walk out with the bottles.

Terra Lindan Quits Board, To Work In Afghanistan

Joseph R. Gunn III, former president of the Terra Linda Community Services District, resigned from the board of directors last night.

Gunn told directors at their meeting in the Bernard Hoffman School that he is leaving on Feb. 16 to become an economic research analyst for the Asia Foundation in Afghanistan. He said he is taking the position for two years.

His letter of resignation was handed to the new president Dr. Michael J. Franzblau, at the end of the meeting. Gunn was appointed as a director in February, 1959 after serving as chairman of a recreation steering committee. He was president of the district last year.

He told the directors last night he will take his wife, Ethel, and their two daughters with him to Kabul. They have lived at 549 Las Colindas Road for three years. Gunn is giving up his job as economic analyst with Standard Oil Co. of California.

The directors heard a mid-year financial report from Controller Arnold H. Brown. With a budget of $39,502 the district has spent $20,071 as of Dec. 31, Brown said. There is $21,733 on deposit with the county and $17,711 in tax payments is to be turned over to the district in April and May he said.

Director Richard Less and the controller were appointed to prepare a tentative 1961-62 budget within the next four weeks.

Final payment on the district's second fire truck, which cost $4,500, was authorized last night. Both the Terra Linda Fire Department trucks will then be paid off, the directors reported.

Proposals Started To Acquire Forts

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — The State Division of Beaches and Parks has moved to acquire some 291 acres of Forts Cronkhite and Barry from the federal government as the start of a Golden Gate Headlands State Park.

The division said today it has made three proposals to the federal General Services Administration on acquisition of the property. Several weeks ago the GSA offered the property to the state for half of its $615,000 assessed valuation.

Beaches and Parks, however, has only $250,000 available at present for acquisition of the property. It has asked for an additional $80,000 in this year's state budget, scheduled to be presented to the legislature next week.

Under the division's proposal, the state would either (1) purchase the 161 acres in Fort Cronkhite outright and reserve the right to purchase the 130 acres in Fort Barry; (2) purchase the Cronkhite property and put the Barry property in escrow until the legislature provides sufficient funds for its purchase, or (3) put both parcels of land in escrow until enough funds are available for the complete purchase.

A spokesman for the division said he understands the federal government was more interested in the first proposal, but that no definite action would be taken until the GSA makes up its mind.

Plan Would Cut Down On Elections

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—A bill which would prohibit the calling of special elections on school money matters within 90 days of a state election is being introduced in the State Senate by Marin Sen. John F. McCarthy.

McCarthy said he is introducing the measure to prevent spending of money unnecessarily for a special election when a regular election is nearby. He said some school elections in Marin have been within a week or two of a general election.

The bill would prevent any election dealing with increasing or decreasing a school district tax rate maximum, a school bond election or an election regarding expenditures or repayment of an apportionment —from being held within 90 days of a statewide election without being consolidated with it.

Mill Valleyan Aids In Travel Project

Dr. Edward S. Ross of Mill Valley, curator of the department of entomology of the California Academy of Sciences in San Francisco, is writing books and supplying pictures for "Panorama Colorslide Programs," project of the Columbia Record Club.

Colored slides of travel, nature, art and science subjects are provided members. Records with descriptive narration by such celebrities as Edward R. Murrow, Charles Boyer, Vincent Price, Burgess Meredith, Walter Cronkite and Basil Rathbone, accompany the slides —as do books written by travel authorities, museum curators and scientists.

Dr. Ross has supplied many of the pictures for the already published series on "Butterflies" and is writing the books and supplying pictures for "Camouflage" and "Ants."

Listings Up Of Business In Marin

Marin County had 36.6 per cent more business listed in 1960 than in 1955, it was reported today by Dun and Bradstreet.

For the same five-year period, the other eight Bay Area counties showed an increase of only 10.3 per cent.

"There were 2,021 businesses listed this past year in Marin, which is an increase of 542 businesses over 1955," said R. F. Cathcart, district manager of the San Francisco office of Dun and Bradstreet.

Percentage increases of individual cities in the county were: San Rafael, 37.4; Sausalito, 69.5; Novato, 54.8; Kentfield, 37.1; Larkspur, 23.4; Corte Madera, 68; Fairfax, 5.6; Point Reyes Station, 5; Mill Valley, 19.3; San Anselmo, 10.2.

Listings represent only manufacturers, wholesalers, retailers and some service companies such as service stations and laundries. They do not include all professional and service businesses such as barber shops, real estate and stock brokers, Cathcart said.

COULDN'T HAVE BEEN MORE EMBARRASSING

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — California Safety News, quarterly publication of the State Division of Industrial Safety, carries the following item in its latest issue:

"A pretty employee of one of California's largest and most safety-conscious firms fell over an open drawer and sprained her ankle.

"The explanation under Section 23 of the Employer's Report of Industrial Injury, which asks 'what was employee doing when accident occurred?' was:

"'Posing for safety poster.'"

Marin City School Will Get Four Classrooms

The Sausalito School District board has decided unanimously that the next school construction at Marin City will be addition of four classrooms to the present new five room building.

The board, according to Supt. Marcus F. Davis, will make a study as soon as possible as to how to finance the classrooms, estimated by architect Vincent Raney to cost $114,000.

The board announced it will hold a contest to select a name for the school, which is now named Marin City Elementary School. Reason for this, Davis said, is that in time, it is expected there will be several Marin City schools and so the present name would be misleading.

The contest is open to pupils who live in Marin City and attend either the Marin City or Richardson Bay School. The board members will act as contest judges.

Davis said the regular board meeting set for Feb. 13 will be changed to Feb. 6.

Bill Would Wipe Out 10 Per Centers

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Assemblyman Glenn E. Coolidge (R-Felton) says he has a bill which would wipe out what's left of the 10 per cent mortgage business.

It would require firms to produce a specific trust deed before accepting money from an investor. The firms also would be required to advertise the real interest and amount of discount on trust deeds they sell. Violators would be punished by revoking their licenses.

North Ridge Plan Called 'Mutilation'

"Mutilation of Mount Tamalpais" in development of Mill Valley's North Ridge was assailed last night by speakers from among a crowd that packed the Mill Valley City Council chamber for a hearing on the North Ridge master plan.

The plan, which would zone the area to permit 813 homes, one school and two parks, encompasses about 1,500 acres of undeveloped area bordered on the east by Camino Alto, the west by the eastern slope of the mountain, the north by Corte Madera Ridge and the south by the developed part of Mill Valley.

It proposes dwellings along the ridge bordering a two-lane road, Tamalpais Parkway, with short cul de sac roads running off the parkway. The road would run from Highway 101 in Corte Madera along the ridge to join Panoramic Highway at Mountain Home.

Lots would run from 8,750 square feet up to three acres. Robert Cornish, author of the plan, proposes large open areas with no building.

Several persons voiced approval of the plan, with ex-planning commissioner Lennart Iglehart saying "It's a wonderful plan" and Dean N. Meyer, president of the Scott Highlands Assn., also approving it, with some changes. Meyer appeared with a delegation of about 40 people from Scott Highlands and Rancho Los Lomas.

The parkway, as well as proposal for future development of about one-third of the area, now owned by Marin Municipal Water District, brought protests.

The council, following discussion, continued the hearing to Feb. 1, asking the planning commission to make recommendations on a change in the minimum lot size to make it 15,000 square feet, a change in the zoning of property of Holbrook Mitchell, a restudy of the proposed road off the parkway onto Buena Vista Avenue and the suggestion that all water district land be rezoned as open area.

Dr. Edward Ross spoke for preservation of the mountain as open area, saying "the scenic highway would literally cut the mountain in half." He said nature groups in the bay region would make offers to preserve the mountain. He asked that the road be stricken or made a dead-end road.

"Before mutilating the mountain," Ross declared, "we should find out the opposition we would face from people of the Bay Region."

Other persons who spoke in the same vein were Joseph C. Brewster, John Barnard, U. G. Karrer, William Hamilton and Richard Goldsmith.

Mrs. Elizabeth Rodman, former city councilman, said the planning commission and city council have problems when faced with developers who want to develop their property. The only way to prevent development, she said, is by governmental acquisition.

"We would be short sighted if we take out the road," declared Mrs. Rodman.

Ernest Friberg, representing Goheen Construction Co., asked that the eastern end of the ridge area be marked off and considered separately. He said his firm is ready to go ahead on 15 acres in this area on a "crash program."

Mayor Heads Tam School Bond Drive

Corte Madera Mayor Edward W. Colthurst last night was named chairman of the Tamalpais Union High School District three million dollar bond issue campaign.

Voters will decide April 18 on the bond issue to provide funds for expansion of Redwood, Tamalpais and Drake high schools and acquire an additional high school site.

About 56 persons turned out last night for a meeting to organize the bond campaign. Colthurt appointed the following committee chairmen: Dr. Joseph A. Guthrie of Ross, precinct workers; Price Hall of Larkspur, publicity; Harry Rothrock of Ross, speakers bureau; Roger F. Morse of Morse of Corte Madera, temporary chairman endorsement committee; William B. Lewis of San Anselmo, finance; Eugene A. Ostaggi of Ross, treasurer; Robert Mautner of Novato, Redwood High School teacher, staff liaison.

Donations for the campagin may be sent to Ostaggi at Ross Valley Savings and Loan Asn., San Anselmo.

Thec ommittee chairmen will form an executive board, along with other advisers, to map out a general campaign plan. A tentative plan and timetable were discussed last night.

Dr. Guthrie will name area chairmen in each elementary district to assist in the campaign.

FREEWAY

Boulevard and ending in a cul de sac.

Coleman said the traffic problem at the entrance to San Rafael would be eliminated by the construction of stage one and traffic on the downtown streets would be eased.

He recommended that the city extend Third Street to join with Second Street and extend Second Street east from Grand Avenue to join with Third Street at the Montecito Shopping Center.

Three streets would have to be made one-way, he said: Irwin northbound from the main interchange to Mission Avenue, Third Street westbound from Grand until it terminates and Second Street eastbound from Marquand Street to its eastern termination.

If Second and Third Streets were made one-way, the lights could be synchronized—probably at 25 miles per hour, he said.

As a solution to flash flooding in the Lincoln-Irwin entrance to the city and as a beautification measure, Coleman suggested a triangular lagoon bounded by Irwin, Second, Grand and Francisco Boulevard.

Grand Avenue would be extended as an earth fill across the canal and the land inside dredged and pumps and drainage gates installed.

City councilmen commended Coleman for his work and gave him the go-ahead to finish the details of the report.

They said a public hearing would be held when Coleman's final report is ready.

Home-Craft Zone Plan Rejected

A half dozen members of the San Geronimo Valley Assn. voted Tuesday night against having any residential-home craft zoning in the valley.

The members, meeting at the Lagunitas School, directed president Leslie Stone to vote against any such zoning by the San Geronimo Valley Master Plan Committee.

The committee is considering zoning which would allow selling craft work out of a shop in a home.

Coroner Rules On Woman's Death

The death of Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson, 58-year-old Novato widow, was ruled a suicide today by Coroner Frank J. Keaton.

Mrs. Thompson died yesterday at a local hospital. An autopsy showed the cause of death to be an overdose of barbituates, Keaton said.

The pills were apparently taken by Mrs. Thompson at her home at 2099 Mill Road, Novato, on Monday.

Keaton said a note was found addressed to her two sons and a daughter. It indicated that she did not want to live after her husband had died on Dec. 18 after a long illness. "I have been saving these pills for years, just for this purpose," the note read.

Record Vote Sought For Fairfax Election

More than 100 volunteer workers are making a telephone survey and seeking to get out a record vote Feb. 7 for a boost in the Fairfax operational school tax, Jay Hutchison of the Fairfax Voters Information Group reported to a meeting of the Fairfax School District Board Tuesday.

The proposal is to raise the present $1.25 general purpose tax to $2.05 per $100 assessed valuation. The election would not affect debt payments and override taxes which this year total an additional 63 cents on the rate.

Housewife, 18, Tells Police Of Assault

An attractive 18-year-old San Anselmo housewife, four months pregnant, was raped in a dimly lit walkway in East San Rafael last night, she told police.

The hysterical girl wandered to Francisco Boulevard near Harbor Street where she was found at 11:45 p.m. by Police Officer Arthur Newman.

A half dozen policemen searched the area for almost two hours but found no trace of the rapist.

The girl told police she had an argument with her husband while they were bowling with another couple at the Country Club Bowl.

She stalked out of the bowling alley and went for a walk to ease her temper, she said.

Three blocks from the alley, in front of 140 Front Street, a man stepped from the shadows of a deserted warehouse and grabbed the girl around the waist.

Clamping his hand over her mouth, the rapist dragged the struggling girl into a walkway between two warehouses, where he assaulted her.

The girl said the rapist muttered only: "You're beautiful." Other than that he said nothing during the attack.

The rapist ran down the walkway and then headed towards Canal Street, the girl told police. She stumbled down Harbor Street to Francisco Boulevard where she was found and taken to San Rafael General Hospital. She was released after examination.

She described the rapist as six feet tall, 20 to 24 years old with blonde crew-cut hair and wearing a plaid shirt.

The victim's husband told police he and the other couple left the bowling alley 10 minutes after his wife. They thought she had walked to a friend's house in San Rafael.

is a new position with new and additional functions, he went on. He denied Hoopingarner would necessarily be out of a job if he does not qualify in the examination.

"There are other considerations that should be mentioned in a closed personnel situation," added Sheeks.

Councilman George D. Monardo backed Sheeks' stand. Huber and Wornum said they still believed the exam for Hoopingarner to be unfair.

Milker Arrested Fleeing Police

Harvey Francis Roberts, 34-year-old San Rafael milker, was jailed yesterday after jumping from his car and fleeing from a deputy sheriff, leaving women's lingerie in his car.

Deputy Sheriff Harvey E. Teague stopped Roberts about 2 a.m. near Le Chateau restaurant, on the road leading to the Smith Brothers Ranch in Santa Venetia. Teague said the car was weaving, and proceeding in jerky fashion.

When the officer ordered Roberts out of the car, he noticed the man had been sitting on women's clothing and underwear. As Teague picked up the clothing, Roberts ran. Officers arrested Roberts four hours later when he showed up at the Smith Brothers Ranch dining hall.

Roberts was being held in Marin County Jail on suspicion of resisting arrest. Bail was set at $525.

Teague said Roberts has previous arrests for petty theft involving women's clothes.

Boys Try To Hit Autos With Rocks

Boys with slingshots tried to pepper cars on North San Pedro Road in Santa Venetia yesterday afternoon, a motorist complained to sheriff's deputies.

Arthur J. Gobey of 40 Cushing Avenue, Santa Venetia, said several boys shot rocks at his vehicle from a hillside south of North San Pedro Road opposite La Pasada Way. The car was not damaged.

When Deputy Sheriff William Brust arrived, the boys had vanished.

Baptists Supporting Move Against Books

Rev. Michael Barkowska of Calvary Baptist Church in Larkspur had the backing of other churches of the same denomination today in his campaign to remove two books from high school reading shelves.

A resolution in unanimous support of Rev. Barkowska's stand was adopted by the Bay Area Regular Baptist Ministerial Fellowship during a meeting Monday at Western Baptist Bible College in El Cerrito, the Larkspur minister disclosed.

(The fellowship is affiliated with the General Assn. of Regular Baptist Churches, which comprises churches with total membership of perhaps 100,000 in the United States, characterized as an "extreme fundamentalist" segment of the Baptist faith.)

The resolution declared the two books attacked by Rev. Barkowska—"Catcher in the Rye" by J. O. Salinger and "Of Mice and Men" by John Steinbeck—"are basically lewd obscene and blasphemous." It declared the fellowship "in unanimous support of the Rev. Michael Barkowska and the Calvary Baptist Church of Larkspur in their valiant efforts to inform the citizens of Marin County of this moral and spiritual conspiracy against God and country."

who were allegedly aborted.

She said he came to her Belvedere home last year on the pretext of selling insurance to "get a layout of my house."

"He blackmailed me for $4,000, and I refused him. That was in December. He said 'You'll be sorry.' They said I did it in September and October of last year. Then, why did he wait until now to report it?"

She said he tried to extort money from her because he knew how she had operated in Sonoma County.

"But I've paid for that mistake already. Why should I give in to blackmail now?" she demanded.

Meanwhile, Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety has lined up several witnesses, including the two stenographers, for a grand jury hearing tonight. He seeks an indictment against her on two counts of abortion.

Mrs. Venza, defended by attorney Sol Abrams, is in jail in lieu of $5,000 bail, set yesterday by Judge Harold J. Haley in Marin Municipal Court. Bail bondsman Boyd Puccinelli was in the courthouse when she was arraigned. However, she could not post the $5,000 bail because the state parole office has a "hold" on her.

Looking cheerful and motherly, Mrs. Venza told newsmen she is a native of Florence, Italy, and came to this country in 1918. She is an American citizen through her father's naturalization.

She was paroled from her Sonoma conviction in May, 1959, and came to live in Belvedere. She would have been released from parole in June of this year. She said she gets a modest income from renting a downstairs apartment and caring for children in her Belvedere home.

Her present husband, Savario Venza, is a retired crab fisherman now living in Sonoma. They are separated.

Belvedere Police Chief William Woodington and Inspector Donald E. Midyett of the district attorney's office, said she fought and bit them when arrested at her home.

"I never bit them; that's not true," Mrs. Venza insisted. She said she wanted to call someone on the telephone because no one else was at home at the time. When police refused, she said, she slammed the bedroom door, and Chief Woodington got his finger caught in the door.

She showed black and blue marks on her arms which she claimed were made when officers handcuffed her.

Measure Would Tighten Contracts

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A bill to bind health and dance studios closer to their contracts has been introduced today by Assemblyman Edwin Z'berg (D-Sacramento).

The legislation would require contracts to be in writing, limit them to one year, limit advance payments to $500, and excuse persons for paying for services not received because of death or disability.

Many Irate Over Dogs' Marauding

Marauding dogs that roam on other people's properties to chase and kill livestock may be shot on the spot under state law, Undersheriff Eugene Meyer declared today.

So many sheep and cattle are being chewed up by rampaging dog packs that some irate Marin ranchers are ready to shoot, the undersheriff said.

Latest victim is Joseph Luiz of the Luiz Ranch on Lucas Valley Road. Luiz reported yesterday noon that three heifers were killed by dogs and a fourth so badly chewed that it will probably die. The loss is about $400. He told Deputy Sheriff Leo R. Ballard that two dogs were seen running on his ranch. He is authorized to shoot dogs harrassing his cattle, Meyer said.

Under a section of the State Agricultural Code, a livestock owner may kill any dog in the act of chasing or killing livestock or poultry on land not owned by the dog owner.

However, this right to shoot a dog does not apply within city limits or to any dog under reasonable control of the owner or keeper unless it is actually caught in the act of chasing or killing livestock.

The owner of livestock killed by dogs may recover twice the value of his loss from the dog owner.

Larkspur Planners, Council Discuss Planning Project

By DOROTHY SIMPERS

Larkspur City Council members and planning commissioners sat down together for almost four hours last night to discuss suggestions for a planning program for the city.

They used as the basis for their talks a five-page list of items prepared by Councilman Lesly A. Daveler in "skeleton" form as a guide for the city's planning.

No decisions were made during the informal discussions, which at times became long-winded and rambling. The two groups covered two pages of Daveler's list and part of a third.

The councilmen and commissioners devoted much of the time to discussion of various maps Daveler thought should be obtained or prepared to aid the planning commission, and a proposed handbook of policies and responsibilities.

The discussions on map and handbook items provoked exasperated comment from City Manager Ronald E. Piper.

Piper said that in the last budget he included provision for help to develop maps for the planning commission, "but you all chose to take it out of the budget. Now you say it is a good idea . . . and let someone else absorb the job. It isn't just the maps and policy. These things are going to cost money. The deeper you get in, the more it's going to cost. You have to decide in which direction you are going."

Councilmen and commissioners agreed it would be good to have a compilation of existing policies, but, as Mayor Arthur E. Storhaug observed, "I don't know who'll keep it up."

The suggestion for creation of a board of zoning adjustments, made at a previous joint session, again was touched on. Daveler said he would like see the planning commission "get a little more help."

Vaughn Marker, who replaced Price Hall last night as planning commission chairman, said the commissioners had reached no conclusion on the possibility of a board of zoning adjustments or on expanding the commission.

Commissioner John Vandall said the most workable solution was to enlarge the commission to seven, and choose three of the seven for a board of zoning adjustments. Comsioner James Chesnut agreed.

Commissioners S. W. (Bud) Eason declared a five-man commission "can operate properly in a city the size of Larkspur." He saw no need for a board of zoning adjustments.

Both council and commission agreed to discuss the matter further.

One of the two persons in the audience, Robert Smith, suggested the city hire a planning consultant. In the next three to five years, or sooner, the planning commission will be overburdened with work, he said.

The two groups gave some consideration to a list of plans and ordinances Daveler felt should be developed, and agreed to establish a priority list and timetable at a later meeting. They noted that the subdivision, cut-and-fill and zoning ordinances already are being studied.

Piper opposed development of a general plan. In Larkspur, he said, the "general pattern of the city is here now. Very little change can be made. We are going to have to live with it."

The city manager added that "planning of completely undeveloped areas is worthwhile and should be done." This is better than developing an ultimate plan and trying to force the city toward it, he declared.

Daveler made a plea for a "little integrity for our town." He declared that "We've got a town that is only half a town, with San Rafael phone numbers and San Rafael post offices, and what have you." (The Greenbrae section of Larkspur has a San Rafael post office address.)

The two bodies also touched on such matters as revision of the west boundary in Murray Park, after-the-fact variances, setback requirements, septic tanks, drainage across sidewalks.

Councilman Neil Brixon left at 11:10 p.m. after his motion to adjourn failed. The meeting ended shortly after midnight.

Hub Chamber Due Area Report

Details of a proposed consolidation of the Bay Area's bridges, airports, seaports and related facilities under a regional transportation agency will be laid before members of the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce tonight by Leo H. San Rafael's Newest Fire Station Opens

San Rafael threw superstition to the winds last week and put its new fire station in Terra Linda into operation on Friday the 13th.

The $48,700 Joseph Sauer Firehouse No. 3 on Joseph Court near the Terra Linda interchange will service the area north of Puerto Suello hill on one-alarm fires.

Official dedication of the modern gray and black firehouse is scheduled Feb. 11, but the first four-man shift moved in Friday along with a 750 gallons per minute reserve pumper engine from headquarters.

The reserve pumper will be reassigned to headquarters when the department's new $31,900 fire truck capable of pumping 1,250 gallons per minute arrives in March, according to Fire Chief Vance Trivett.

Fire Capts. Paul Sasse and Donald Christensen are in charge of the station's personnel which includes two engineers and four firemen.

The builder, Zoellner Construction Co. of Ross, finished the station last week, but still has some touch up painting to do, Trivett said. The one-story building includes kitchen and recreation area, office, dormitory and equipment room capable of holding four fire engines.

"We can add more engines as the area grows," Trivett said.

Novato Students Study Uniforms

A student proposal for black and gold uniforms for Novato High School girl students is moving forward.

A student council committee expects to have a sample of the proposed uniform displayed at the school early next month to test coed opinion.

The uniform probably will consist of a black cardigan sweater, blouse, pleated skirt of black and gold, the Hornet colors.

If approved by a majority of the coeds, the uniform might be available for optional wear. It would not be compulsory.

Jewish Community Center Elects

Robert Levy, Wilfred Cohen and Kurt Rosenthal have been elected to the board of directors of the Marin Jewish Community Center.

Also elected were the following incumbents: Mrs. Malvern S. Dorinson, Mrs. Sam Goldbaum, Maurice Koch, Julius Selinger, Sol Silver, Mrs. Lalla Smith and Mrs. Morris Thau.

Record Scores Seen In Crosby Tourney

Weatherman Cooperates For Star-Studded Event

PEBBLE BEACH (AP) — Bing Crosby's $50,000 golf extravaganza opened today over three courses by this seaside Monterey Peninsula with the forecast calling for fair weather.

That promised low scores expected to beat Billy Casper's 277 of 1958, the record for a 72-hole Crosby event. Veteran Jimmy Demaret showed Crosby how the game should be played yesterday at Cypress Point. He toured the par 72 layout in 66 strokes, including a hole-in-one on the 155-yard 7th.

Just like in the movies, Jackie Burke and Jug McSpaden were passing by and the former asked, "How are you hitting them, old man?"

Demaret replied, "Pretty good, watch this one," and hit his tee shot with a No. 5 iron into the hole.

Byron Nelson and Burke each carded four-under-par 68 at Cypress while Jim Ferree matched Demaret's 66. Bob Goalby, winner of the Los Angeles Open, wound up with a two-under-par 70 at Pebble Beach.

Crosby's format combines two tournaments in one, pro-amateur and individual pro competition. The pros are paired with amateur golfers from the fields of entertainment, sports, business and the professions.

PRIZE MONEY

Pros shoot for a top prize of $5,300 plus what they win in the pro-amateur competition where the pro on the winning team collects $3,000.

Eac hteam will play each of the three courses — Cypress Point, Monterey Peninsula and Pebble Beach — the first three days. The leaders, 60 professionals and 40 pro-amateur teams, play their final 18 holes Sunday at Pebble Beach in the nationally televised windup.

Arnold Palmer, golfer-of-the-year for 1960, shot par 72 over Pebble Beach ycesterday while Frank Stranahan carded a 68 in the same foursome.

Defending champion Ken Venturi has been on hand all week shooting practice rounds. Venturi won last year's event with a 286, shooting the final round in a gale.

THE CELEBRITIES

From the football ranks: Coach Red Hickey of the San Francisco 49ers, Coach Wayne Hardin, Navy; Coach Pete Elliott, Illinois; Frankie Albert, Bones Hamilton, Ernie Nevers, Tom Harmon and Marshall Duffield.

From baseball: Manager Alvin Dark, San Francisco Giants; Dick Groat, Pittsburgh Pirates captain; Bob Lemon, Ralph Kiner and Jackie Jensen.

From high finance: William Clay Ford and Leonard Firestone.

Bickford 10th In National Keg Finals

Don Bickford's bid for the National All-Star Bowling Tournament championship was running behind schedule today as the Marin County alley kingpin stood 10th place in the finals field of 16.

However, the 27-year-old Bickford has three more days to try to catch the sensational early leader, Billy Welu of St. Louis, in the classic at San Bernardino.

In yesterday's opening round of the finals Welu threatened to run away and hide from his 15 foes with one of the fastest starts in the 20-year history of the meet. He captured 12 of his 16 first round games and held an 82-37 score in the Peterson point system, based on one point for each game won and one point for each 50 pins downed.

72-25 FOR DON

Bickford, meanwhile, was compiling 72 - 25 Peterson points. He had qualified for the finals with a 36-game semi-final total of 7,547 pins.

In second place, some 5-37 points behind Welu, was Ray Bluth, also of St. Louis, with 77-00 points.

Head-to-head matches continue today, tomorrow and the classic winds up Saturday night on national-television, Channel 7, 7 o'clock.

The women's race was as close as the men's was one-sided. Helen Shablis of Detroit, who won her first six games, held only a 1-03 point lead over LaVerne Carter of St. Louis.

BOWLING

Thirteen-year-old Frank Mooney fired a slick three-game series of 567 pins this week as he led the Marin Bowl team to a 2-1 victory over San Rafael's Country Club Bowl in North Bay Junior All-Star Bowling League at Vallejo.

The victory moved Marin Bowl into a second place tie with Country Club with 25 victories and 17 losses each. Boulevard Bowl of Petaluma leads the league with 27-15.

Nave Lanes of Ignacio is fourth place with 24-18, Greenbrae Lanes fifth place with 22-20 and Hamilton Air Force Base Lanes ninth place in the 10-team league.

MAC KOCH'S 567 series led the men and Shirley Endy's 474 and Sue Anderson's 456 topped the women in this week's Koch League at Greenbrae Lanes.

In the Nave Glamour Girls League, high bowlers included Jewel Deutsch, 537; Patty Campball; Mardee Lax, 499; Buddy Clausing, 497; Fern Harris, 497; Lois Lagerstrom, 481; Ann Johnson, 477; Helen McCarthy, 476; Ruth Hare, 468; and Vi Peschel, 452.

Abeyta Winner In Furious Battle

OAKLAND (AP) — Oakland's Jimmy Abeyta scored his fifth straight victory Wednesday night by outpointing Mexico's Pimi Barajas in 10 furious rounds.

Barajas of Tijuana had a half-pound edge at 118½ for the bantam go. Neither man was down although Abeyta scored heavily to his opponent's jaw throughout.

Abeyta now is 33-3 on his career with 3 draws.

The gross was $2,717 for 1,565 customers.

PLAYER SHORTAGE SOLVED BY TAMITES

Tamalpais High School's frosh-soph basketball team had only five players available for its game with St. Vincent's School yesterday, but the problem was easily solved.

Larry Brady, the team manager, was issued a uniform as the team's number one—and only—substitute.

He came through with flying colors. Larry, a freshman, even scored four points as Tam won, 42-29.

Anderson, from New York City, declined to ride to the track hospital in an ambulance and walked to the judge's stand to report.

ROOKIES WORTH $250,000 SIGN GIANT PACTS

Three rookies, representing an outlay of more than $250,000 in total bonuses, returned their signed contracts today to the San Francisco Giants.

Coming to terms were catchers Richard Dietz, 19, and Cecil Hundley, 18, along with shortstop Charles "Cap" Peterson, 18.

They were signed to bonus contracts last June, then headed for the lower minor leagues where the Giant brass believes they began showing their potential.

Dietz, although batting .234 last season with Artesia, N.M. of the Sophomore League, hit 11 home runs in 88 games and drove in 50 runs. Hundley clubbed .268 at Salem, Va. of the Appalachian League.

Peterson, who stands 6-feet-2½ inches, was the most impressive of the trio. He batted .289 in 47 games with Fresno of the California League and displayed a good throwing arm, Giant scouts said.

Rex Fink To Head Belvedere Tennis

Al Dark Own Boss In Baseball, But He'll Obey Orders In Crosby Golf

HANLEY

CYPRESS POINT—Al Dark will be making plenty of his own decisions later in the year as the new manager of the Giants, but today he admitted he was under orders of his pro partner, Art Wall Jr., in the 20th Century Invitational Golf Championship.

"What about No. 16?" we asked him. "Are you going to go for it?"

"I'm going to do what Art says," smiled Dark, the golfer. "He's boss here. And I might add he is a competent one."

Dark got his first peek at Cypress' famous 16th during a practice round the other day and just like every other golfer, seeing it for the first time, marvelled at its beauty.

"It is a 222-yard dream hole with its 200-yard carry over that inlet of the Pacific," he said.

A man who pays particular attention to details, Dark was quick to note that Cypress ignores basic rules of golf architecture by putting two par threes back-to-back, the 15th and 16th.

"That required a brilliant imagination," he said. "In its own way the 15th, a little 113-yard pitch over that pirate cove, is as beautiful as the 16th. But who was the architect with the daring to put par threes together like that?"

We told him that a Scotsman named Dr. Alister Mackenzie cooperated with nature in fashioning the 15th and 16th, refusing to be bound by an architectural tradition which Cypress' rugged terrain defied.

Dark is a tradition and percentage man when it comes to baseball, but as a golfer he had nothing but admiration for Mackenzie's daring departure from basic rules.

Mackenzie's classical success with a radical method does not even tempt Dark a little bit in his devotion to baseball fundamentals and traditional percentages.

"Remember, they are two different games with different rules," he said. "Playing percentage baseball or percentage golf usually pays off in the long run. Maybe with architecture it's different. That's not my game but I sure have to admit Mackenzie pulled off a neat double play with those two par threes.

"I don't believe I ever saw two of them placed back-to-back before."

M.V. Quint Scores 3d Straight Win

Mill Valley Boys Club eighth grade Chargers won their third straight game last night, edging Terra Linda 40-38 in the Tamalpais High School gym.

Dan Crowley of Terra Linda led all scoring with 18 points, and Marty Anthony led the boys club with 16.

Mill Valley now has a 5-4 season record.

Van Brocklin Maps Plans For Vikings

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) —The restless Dutchman embarked today on a new career as head coach of the Minnesota Vikings, bringing with him the prestige of a great quarterback and the prospect of fireworks.

Norm Van Brocklin, named to direct the fledgling National Football League club yesterday under a three-year contract, made no pledges of radical offenses or forecasts of quick success.

But he made this point: "We'll use the orthodox T formation with most of the variations. You can bet, too, that we'll throw that football plenty if we have to."

None of that throwing will be by Van Brocklin, for 12 years one of the premier marksmen in the NFL and the guiding hand last season behind the Philadelphia Eagles' ascent to the league championship.

Van Brocklin, 34, is through as an active player, "with no regrets," he said. He starred for nine years with the Rams, quit, abandoned retirement plans to join Philadelphia and quit again rather than be a playing assistant coach.

OWNERS AGLOW

Vikings' owners were aglow over the acquisition of Van Brocklin. They needed a man of national stature to lend his reputation to their inaugural year in the competitive jungle of the NFL. They also needed the savvy of a NFL vet to help them pick the 36 players from the league pool who will form the core of the Vikings' roster.

Van Brocklin, of course, is untested as a coach. Yet General Manager Bert Rose expressed confidence that he has the ability to make it.

The Vikings declined to reveal salary terms. It was assumed, however, that Van Brocklin stands to make somewhere around $75,000 in the three years, the exact figure depending on attendance, year-to-year improvement and other factors.

Van Brocklin plans to name four assistants, two for defense, one as offensive line coach and one as end coach. Not surprisingly, he will handle the offense himself.

Tam Schedules 9 Grid Games In '61

Tamalpais High School today announced its 1961 football schedule consisting of four inter-league contests and five against Marin County Athletic League opponents.

Coach Jim Hanretty's Indians will open the season against Pacific High at Pacifica Sept. 15 and follow against Palo Alto at Palo Alto Sept. 22, Riordan of San Francisco at Kentfield Sept. 29 and Santa Rosa at Kentfield Oct. 6 to complete the practice schedule.

Tam's league schedule is: Oct. 13 Marin Catholic, Oct. 20 Redwood, Oct. 27 Drake, Nov. 3 Novato, Nov. 10 San Rafael.

San Rafael Star Petrini Honored As 'Prep Of Week'

San Rafael High School's Randy Petrini, an All-Marin League end in football, is making a bid for similar honors in the prep league's basketball race.

In fact the 6-foot, 3-inch senior was so outstanding in San Rafael's 44-37 victory over Drake last Friday that he was selected "Prep of the Week" by the Independent-Journal and Radio KTIM.

In that victory, San Rafael's first in league competition, Petrini scored 16 points and grabbed 14 rebounds.

He will receive a "Prep of the Week" certificate from the I-J and KTIM.

San Rafael (1-1) goes after its second league win tomorrow night, hosting the Novato Hornets (0-2). Other league games are Marin Catholic (1-1) at Redwood (2-0) and Tamalpais (2-0) at Drake (0-2).

All programs start at 7 o'clock with preliminary games in the Class B league. Varsity tilts start at approximately 8:30.

Japanese Giants To Train In U.S.

TOKYO (AP)—The Yomiuri Giants head for Vero Beach, Fla., next month with the hope a few pointers from the Los Angeles Dodgers will carry them to a 1961 Japan Central Baseball League title.

"Spring training in the United States should boost our caliber," Giant General Manager Atsumi Sasaki said today. "We want to be the best in Japan again."

The Giants were runnerups last season to the Taiyo Whales.

Sasaki said the 26 players making the trip can learn a lot from the Dodgers but will put particular emphasis on hitting.

Sasaki said he doesn't expect to negotiate any deals with the Dodgers as Japanese fans would be unhappy at losing their star players.

"We want to learn, not to lose players," he said.

The FISHIN' FOOL

Baby It's Cold Outside, But Brave Anglers Do Good In Back Country

STEVENS

As I sit at my trusty typewriter this morning, the sun is shining brightly; the leaves on the bushes and trees in the back yard are motionless. I glance at my thermometer and note the reading as 76. I considered placing the instrument outside on the back porch but am afraid the mercury would freeze.

Yes, it's much more comfortable inside than outside. I could bundle up and go fishing, but why subject the poor dumb fish to the rigors of a California day in January.

The vast majority of avid anglers apparently has adopted the same philosophy. Yet there have been a few hardy humans who clothed themselves in woolen undergarments and went forth to do battle with the elements.

MOST OF them shunned the biting breezes of the Bay Area and bucked the back country haunts. Oddly, those brave souls did a good job. As witness the record of recent raids in the stretch of water between Decker Island and the Rio Vista Bridge: Jim Marshall and Al Struber collected seven stripers from two to eight pounds and six nice catfish; Jim Andrade and "Hank" Foster did a good job on Sunday—Jim had a limit from 4 to 12 pounds and Al landed one 4 and one 8 pounder. Tony Navarro, who reported the above, also mentioned that Pete Fuentes and Jerome Sanches took legal limits to 12 pounds in the same area.

It is characteristic of a fisherman to return to the spot where he had former success. Bill Taylor, who is famed as the angler who landed a monster of 52 pounds recently, tried the same Old River spot again over the past weekend. Bill had to be satisfied with a 12-pound bass this time, but we'll wager a bucket of chum he keeps trying that same area in hopes of hooking another big one.

MEL SILVA of the Hayward Fisheries reported some nice singles taken over the weekend. For example, Jim Gately caught a 17½-pounder from the Sacramento River; Daniel Noves took a 19¾-pound striper from Broad Slough; E. J. Brown took the weekly Schenley prize with his 23 pounds, two ounces of bass at Buoy 19.

Nadine Lessley of Dowrelio's Crockett Harbor suggested that anyone able to take the weather can collect a mess of fine flat folunders. Bass? No! Practically no boats, large or small are working the San Pablo Bay waters.

FOR THE lads and lassies who relish a feed of catfish, the Old River, Grant Line Canal region continues to yield some very fine catches. Just learned that Mac McIntire took a nice mess of the smoothskins along with a 17-pound striper in the Grant Line Canal, and a trio consisting of Joe Navarro, J. Denelli and John Natole hauled in 20 catfish, all beauties that ran to two-and-a-half pounds.

A pal just stopped by to donate 20 of the largest cockle clams we have ever seen. Caught 'em at Bolinas Bay.

Sixto Honored For Best Bout Of Year

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Harry Campbell, American Olympic lightweight champion from San Jose State College, was picked as the best fight prospect in northern California in the Russ Newland Awards announced yesterday. Hank Casey, the nation's No. 4 middleweight challenger from San Francisco, was named Fighter of the Year.

Undefeated Jimmie Flood of Sacramento, who weighs 160, was chosen the best preliminary boxer.

Best fight of the year was between Sixto Rodriguez of San Anselmo, state lightweight champion, and Bobby Sand of Los Angeles in Richmond last November. Rodriguez got up after taking a nine-count in the first round and won by a knockout.

Campbell has fought three pro fights, winning each by a knockout. He fights the main event at Kezar Stadium Monday night against Flory Olguin.

Eddie Muller of the San Francisco Examiner was named Man of the Year.

Awards will be given the winners at a dinner in San Francisco Feb. 18.

The awards are named after the late Russ Newland, former AP sports writer.

Tennis Assn. Officers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Attorney James Frolik of San Francisco has been elected president of the Northern California Tennis Assn. He succeeds J. Allan Hall of Tracy.

Other officers elected last night were John Katz, Vallejo, vice president; Frank Taylor, San Francisco, treasurer, and Dr. Samuel Wells, University of California at Berkeley, secretary.

Trojan Star Top Scorer In Big Five

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—John Rudometkin, one of the powers in Southern California's drive toward a Big Five basketball title, retained his scoring lead in the league's statistical scramble today with an average of 22.5 points per contest.

The Trojan star also was third in rebounds, fourth in free throws with an .857 average and was hitting at a .529 average from the floor for fifth spot among the field goal elite.

John Hendry of Stanford led the field goal shooters percentage-wise with .615, but the average was figured on eight goals out of 13 attempts. Rudometkin had potted 36 out of 68 and sophomore Ed Corell of Washington 16 out of 27 for a .593.

Bill McClintock of California had snagged 52 rebounds to top the board men and Washington's Clint Names was the best on the free throw line by meshing 12 out of 13.

Southern California led in offense, averaging 68 points per game. Stanford paced the league in defense, holding the enemy to an average of 52 per contest.

Rams Dickering With N.Y. Giants For Lindon Crow

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Los Angeles Rams are working on a deal that would bring defensive back Lindon Crow of the New York Giants to Los Angeles.

The Rams made a pitch for Crow, former University of Southern California star, early in the 1959 season, but a trade failed to jell.

Presumably, one of the considerations of Crow's signature to his 1960 contract with New York was that he would be traded to Los Angeles, his home.

The Rams can fit Crow into their defensive backfield very nicely.

If Los Angeles lands Crow, Ed Meader may be shifted to safety, where he would fit in with Ollie Matson and Charlie Britt. Elbert Kimbrough, highly rated Northwestern end, may be worked as corner backer or safety.

Angels Sign Del Rice

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Angels yesterday announced the signing of Del Rice, 38, to an American League baseball contract. Rice was a free agent after 16 seasons as a National League catcher.

New Props, Radar, Fishing Gear At S.F. Sports Show

Many new and unique features for boating, camping, fishing and just plain vacations will be introduced for the first time at the 17th annual San Francisco National Sports and Boat Show at the Cow Palace, Feb. 3 through 12.

Among the unique items is a fishtail boat propeller which allows the fisherman to propel the boat with his feet, keeping both hands free to fish. The device fits in the floor of the boat and the fisherman has full control, can go forward or backward or stand still.

A combination sailboat and motorboat that converts to a cruising, skiing or fishing sloop within minutes will be featured.

A compact radar, developed by the Radio Corporation of America, which enables the amateur yachtsman to peer up to 18 miles through fog or darkness will be introduced for the first time.

A novel fishing lure called "The Deep 6" for deep down angling will make its first appearance. It is said it goes so deep it swims past you on the retrieve.

The new "Hydraulic Camper" for pick-up campers, raised by hydraulics for camping and lowered for fast and safe highway travel, also will debut.

Many other new items will bow at the 1961 Sports and Boat Show, which will be open weekdays from 2 p.m. until 11 p.m.; Saturdays from 11 a.m. until 11 p.m.; and Sundays from 11 a.m. until 7 p.m.

Ample free parking is available on the Cow Palace grounds.

Eggs Again Mar Boston Contest As Celtics Lose

BOSTON (AP) — While the coaches wrestled over a microphone, brash rookie Len Wilkens helped the feared St. Louis forecourt stun Boston's champions for the third straight time.

Egg throwing preceded a plea by Celtics Coach Red Auerbach over the public address microphone just before the half last night. Rival pilot Paul Seymour literally pulled the plug on Red.

Afterward both were sorry a few fans had spoiled the game with an occasional egg.

Auerbach was the more sorry. His NBA champs lost 125-114.

The only cheering thought Auerbach had was that Philadelphia dropped the doubleheader opener 129-118 to Syracuse even though Wilt Chamberlain tossed in 48 points. Thus the Celts maintained a three-game Eastern Division lead.

Detroit whipped Cincinnati, minus Oscar Robertson, for the eighth time 144-128 in other league action.

No Sudden Death In Fullmer-Sugar Bout

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The Nevada Athletic Commission decided Tuesday there will be no sudden death rounds in the middleweight title fight next month between Gene Fullmer and Sugar Ray Robinson—even if the bout ends in a draw.

Commissioner Jim Deskin said a Nevada law prohibits a fight from going more than 15 rounds.

Non-Conforming Sign Rejected

The Corte Madera Town Council has supported a planning commission decision not to amend the sign ordinance to allow the Embee Market on Paradise Drive to erect a non-conforming sign.

Through their architect, Robert B. Liles, the market developers had asked for a sign 30 feet high and containing 200 square feet.

The ordinance allows a height of only 19 feet and an area of 100 square feet.

The council agreed, however, to relax a board of design ruling that Liles must plant poplar trees at each end of the sign.

Probation Given In Morals Case

Elven Barrow Jr., 20, of Marin City has been placed on one year probation by a Marin County Superior Court judge for contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Barrow, worked as a janitor at the Independent - Journal Building, had pleaded guilty to the charge. Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. ordered him not to associate with girls under 18 years old and not to drink during his probation.

Barrow was arrested last November by San Rafael police who said they found him attacking a 15-year-old Larkspur girl in the woods near Robert Dollar Drive in San Rafael.

A VIOLIN SETS the stage for the discussion of plans for the Marin Symphony Guild's annual winter ball between, from left, Mesdames Mozart Kaufman, reservations chairman, and John M. Wolfe. The ball will be staged this year on Jan. 28 at Meadow Club.

DECORATIONS CHAIRMAN for the winter ball is Mrs. William Pemberton, above, who is in charge of the Jack Frost artistry. All of this activity on the part of Marinites from every section of the county is directed toward ensuring the continued financial as well as musical success of the Symphony Orchestra.

SIGNIFYING HER chairmanship of the food committee with this apple is Mrs. Edward J. Ruff. General chairman for the winter ball is Mrs. A. Barlow Ferguson. The second of three concerts of the Symphony Orchestra will be held on Feb. 24. (Independent-Journal photos)

Jack Frost Decor To Prevail For Symphony Guild Winter Ball

A sophisticated snowman, more wary of belles than boys, will greet guests as they arrive for the Marin Symphony Guild's annual winter ball on Jan. 28.

With his red scarf and black top hat, Mr. Snowman will be the lead man for the Jack Frost artistry that will decorate the halls and rooms of the Meadow Club.

Mesdames John Hurley, Fred Drexler, F. T. Hendrix and Elvira Becker working with decorations chairman, Mrs. William Pemberton, have created shocking pink snowflakes and musical notes to brighten the evergreen trees. Centered on the dining tables will be gold dipped magnolia leaves glittering under the flames of many tapers. Spotlighted in the foyer will be a dramatic arrangement featuring branches of manzanita designed by Mrs. G. Edward French and Mrs. Max Thelen Jr.

Ready with a warm and more realistic greeting will be a hostess committee of active Guild members. Mrs. John McCarthy, chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. Leo Strauss, Mrs. Hugo Rinaldo and ball chairman, Mrs. A. Barlow Ferguson.

All of this activity on the part of Marinites from every section of the county is directed toward ensuring the continued financial as well as cultured success of its own Symphony Orchestra and related musical programs. Confirming this belief that the county wants music of outstanding caliber is the director and conductor Sandor Salgo, professor of music at Stanford University and conductor of the widely hailed annual Bach Festival at Carmel. Talented musicians from San Francisco, Oakland and Marin comprise the orchestra's membership.

The second of three concerts will be held on Feb. 24. One week prior to each performance a preview, featuring excellent speakers, is held at the Meadow Club.

All members of the Guild and their friends should make reservations with Mrs. Mozart Kaufman, Evergreen Drive, Kentfield this week. Also any further queries regarding arrangements for guests should be directed to the reservation chairman.

SHOES WILL COME DOWN TO EARTH

FLORENCE, Italy (UPI) — Women's shoes will come down to earth in 1961, fashion experts predicted today.

Wide heels of medium height have been used almost exclusively in some of the most important spring and summer style shows presented at the Pitti Palace this week.

Simonetta of Rome used heels only one and a half inches high with some of her cocktail dresses. These shoes were in brightly colored silk, dyed-to-match the dresses.

Nearly all day-time shoes in the collections have been of medium height. It also became apparent that the designers hoped to introduce a lower heel for party and evening wear.

The tall, spiked heels of seasons past appeared only occasionally, with the most elaborate evening clothes.

American designer Wally Coons of San Francisco said "I think women are tired of tottering around in those high narrow heels."

Coons came to Italy to make clothes under the name "Pavone" which means peacock in Italian. He used medium-height shoes for his private collection shown durthe high fashion week here.

Short block heels and the short heel tapering to a small pencil-sized point were both popular this week.

Ferragramo, one of the most famous Italian shoe firms, was trying to bring back the sling-backed, open-toed style. With two or three exceptions, all the shoes in the Emilio Pucci show were of this type.

Rec Center To Begin New Classes

New classes are scheduled to start at the Southern Marin Recreation Center.

Ballroom dancing with instruction by the Belrose Dance Studio will start Thursday, Feb. 2. The lesson is scheduled from 8 to 9 p.m. and directed practice from 9 to 9:30 p.m. The ten lessons will include cha-cha-cha, fox trot, rhumba, waltz, samba and swing.

A new series of bridge lessons for beginners, intermediates and advanced players will start Friday, Feb. 3. The classes will be held from 1 to 3 p.m. and continue for 12 lessons.

Mrs. Josephine Hovis who is one of the outstanding bridge players and teachers in the country, will teach the class. Sign-ups will be held at the Center on Friday, Jan. 27 from 1 to 3 p.m.

Children's drama classes will be taught by Mrs. Irene Pritzker of Mill Valley starting Friday, Feb. 3. Two lessons are scheduled. Children in the first through third grades will meet from 2:45 to 3:45 p.m. and those in the fourth through eighth grades from 3:45 to 4:45 p.m. Classes will be conducted on a workshop basis and the series will end with the presentation of plays.

Mrs. Pritzker is well known in Marin County for her direction of both children and adult plays.

Fees are charged for the above classes. Charge to nonmembers is slightly higher than to members.

Town Chairmen Are Announced For Heart Sunday Drive, Feb. 26

Mrs. John Bettinger of San Rafael, who has just been named chairman of the 1961 Heart Sunday drive in Marin County, issued a call for volunteers today following the announcement of her town chairmen.

Some 1,900 volunteers will be needed for the door-to-door canvass to be conducted throughout the residential area on Sunday, Feb. 26. Heart Sunday is the highpoint in the nationwide four-week Heart Fund campaign each February.

When the Heart Sunday army is fully recruited, it will be able to canvass all of the community's residential sections in two hours with each volunteer calling on 10 to 15 families in her immediate neighborhood, Mrs. Bettinger said. The volunteers will be divided into groups and each group headed by a captain. Each volunteer will carry an official identification envelope.

"Heart Fund volunteers need no experience, although many who have already signed up have served in previous Heart Fund campaigns," pointed out Mrs. Bettinger.

Town chairmen announced by Mrs. Bettinegr include Mesdames Morgan LaRue, Belvedere; Frank J. Kelly, Tiburon; T. A. Ubhause, Strawberry; Charles Keyes, Bay View Terrace-Bel Aire area; Paul Kingsley, Corte Madera; Daniel Miller, Fairfax; Andrew Noble, Larkspur; E. F. Pfaff, Alto; Edward Beach, Mill Valley; Henry W. Keto, Homestead Valley; Carolyn Beben, Almonte; Robert H. Horn, Tamalpais Valley; Sim Dever, Ross; E. A. Pedroli, San Anselmo; Robert Ballachey, Sleepy Hollow; Alden Van Pelt, San Rafael; John Richard, Los Ranchitos; George Beckley, San Rafael Meadows; U. H. Blake, Santa Venetia; Edward Miller, Marinwood; Carl Schlichtmann, Greenbrae; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Morris, Terra Linda; Charles B. Greene, Glenwood; C. Solberg, Sausalito; E. Pike, Kentfield and Merton Shelton, Novato.

The Heart Sunday chairman invited residents to volunteer by visiting Heart Fund headquarters in San Rafael.

Mrs. Bettinger who is a newcomer to Marin pointed out that heart volunteers perform a valuable educational service in distributing information presenting the latest knowledge about heart attacks, rheumatic fever, high blood pressure and strokes. She is the mother of three small boys, ages 4, 2 and 1 and recently stated, "I have already met many wonderful people in this county just serving as a heart fund volunteer."

Luncheon, Style Show To Benefit Guide Dog

With the new year, a new series of style shows, and a resolution to welcome Marin women twice monthly for luncheon at Bob's of Marin in Corte Madera, is the news from Sara Campbell, who will co-ordinate the fashions for the mid-day events of 1961—interesting, informative fun-time with friends at the "Informally Yours" style shows to be presented by a San Rafael speciality shop, and designed to keep milady well informed on the very latest in fashion trends for the coming year.

The luncheons are scheduled on alternate Wednesdays at 12:30 o'clock, with the exception of the initial affair which will be held Thursday, Jan. 26; and fashions will be shown by Mannequin League of Marin volunteers models and members of the sponsoring group, which benefits from the proceeds of the event.

On Thursday, Jan. 26, Bob's of Marin will hold an Open House (benefit) to welcome all women's groups that they may become acquainted with the benefit luncheon-style shows to be held each month, with a special welcome extended to those dedicated women of Marin who give so very many service hours to Guide Dogs for the Blind, the nationally known organization located in San Rafael, that gives "sight to the sightless" through the breeding and training of those courageous and intelligent dogs who devote their lives to the service of man.

The fashion promenade at the first of the shows will feature Ship to Shore Styles for '61 and modeling the holiday and cruise line during the luncheon for Guide Dogs for the Blind, will be Mesdames William Morrisey III, Corky Jones, George Coburn, William Donohoe, David Stewart, Richard Evans and Norman Sanguinetti of the Mannequin League of Marin, whose members tread the runways as their contribution to many Bay Area organizations' fund-raisings for charity.

Reservations for the Jan. 26 fashion luncheon to benefit Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc. may be made with Bob's of Marin.

Guests brought box lunches and after luncheon they were taken on a tour of the kennels where they saw the puppies and guide dogs.

Marinite Takes Part In Inaugural Gala

By ELAINE GUTHRIE

WASHINGTON, D.C., Jan. 18—Six thousand distinguished ladies were honored at a mass reception at the National Gallery of Art in Washington today.

Fashionably dressed women from all over the world stood in four receiving lines winding through the elegant galleries to meet prominent Democratic women and wives of the new cabinet members, Senators and other appointees of the new administration. Elizabeth Smith, appointed U. S. treasurer, of Kentfield, untiring and gracious as always, greeted hundreds of guests. Helping her during her shift was Mrs. Peter Lawford, wife of the actor and sister of President-elect Kennedy, elegant in a simple sleeveless dress and sporting the new Jackie Look seen everywhere. While red coated Marines played chamber music, the guests admired the paintings and strolled among the display of hundreds of massed red and white azaleas surrounding playing fountains. Ambassadors' wives from Liberia, Ghana and Nigeria were colorful additions to the crowd, one in hand-woven silk embroidered with birds. Mrs. Chester Bowles, a distinguished woman, asked of her son and family in Belvedere and said she hoped to visit California soon. Mrs. Dean Rusk, charming and very natural, asked about her brother in Mill Valley, Jack Foisie. Mrs. Katie Louchheim, chairman, commented when asked about her new appointment to the State Department under Chester Bowles, that she felt that her new job of looking after prominent women visitors to the United States would be a wonderful chance to advance understanding between women around the world.

Tonight, the ball honoring the young Democrats and the reception for Vice President-elect Lyndon Johnson and his Lady Bird compete with numerous private affairs. Washington is warm and snowless disappointing all Californians who brought heavy winter clothes and boots to the inauguration. The temperature is about the same as I left in Marin County. Bunting and flags of all nations, huge official seals everywhere and the hilarious crowds growing larger as the great day approaches, add to the excitement. The taxi drivers say they have seen nothing like it since 1932.

Shoes Depict Dance History

In the window of The Sandal in Sausalito, for the next 10 days, is a collection of well-worn shoes that depicts dance history.

Perhaps the most interestifng item is an old theatrical trunk, velvet lined, that was used by Anna Pavlova to carry her precious dance shoes which had been made for her in 1910 and for many years after by Salvadore Capezio, or "the dancer's cobbler" as he was known to be at that time.

Since then Capezio has been the foremost designer and maker of theatrical shoes all over the world. This collection includes shoes that have actually been worn on stage by theater greats. Irene Castle's black satin pump nestles against a rhinestone studded creation worn by one of the Dolly Sisters. A silver tap shoe from George White's Scandals, offsets the modern boot worn by Mary Martin. Reginald Van Gleason III can almost be seen, standing in Jackie Gleason's boot!

There are boots from The Three Musketeers, Goldilocks, Can-Can, Music Man, and a purple velvet with a silver buckle, from The Shakespearian Festival at Stratford-on-Avon. (Perhaps envied by Shylock in the Merchant of Venice.)

Ticket Chairmen For Reed Dance Are Announced

San Quentin P-TA To Fete Founders

At the recent meeting of San Quentin Parent Teacher Association at the school which was conducted by Mrs. Marion Belden, president, the financiay success of the salad luncheon was reported. Plans were discussed for the observance of Founders Day in February.

Dust Of Squabble Settles And Problems Still Here

Now that the dust has pretty well settled in the civic center stop-work dispute, there are some things that we can see more clearly.

First, the county is still paying a big monthly rent bill to provide space for county offices. Even after the first phase of the civic center is complete, we predict, the rent bill will continue without substantial reduction.

We are aware that Supervisor Ludy has suggested the way to cut rents is to reduce "the number of bureaus" and the people who are employed in them. This sounds good. But like the supervisors learned it didn't pay to monkey with the civic center construction contract, we are sure they will find they will not be able to make any significant reduction in county offices or employees.

So we will continue to need additional county building space.

Second, we still must face up to the need for more county hospital space and more juvenile hall space. Various plans for solving these problems have not thus far found favor; but the problems have not and will not go away. They will cost money to solve. And in the end they will have to be solved at taxpayers' expense. All we can hope for is an efficient solution that will not turn out to be false economy.

Third, you can't finance construction in a cheaper way than "pay-as-you-go." Bond issues require the cost of an election, first, followed by continuing interest costs. Pay-as-you-go, painful as it may seem at tax-bill time, is still the most economical.

In the end, our economy-minded board of supervisors must return to this conclusion, if they are to face facts.

Fourth, the county-wide straw vote sponsored by the I-J vote answered only one question: "Do you approve the supervisors' order to stop work on the civic center?"

The answer was an astonishingly loud NO!

But that doesn't mean all the people who voted NO want to continue with the Frank Lloyd Wright-designed master plan for government center development beyond the present contract. It means only what the question asked. Many people who were cool toward the Frank Lloyd Wright plan voted against the stop-order on the simple basis of common sense — there would be no economy in breaking a contract for a construction job already in progress.

They still have many reservations about proceeding further. In this connection, Supervisor Fusselman's suggestion for a thorough review of the county's long range needs and a study of over-all finances, is sound. It deserves to be carried out. It may result in some changed thinking about what ought to be built next and how it should be financed. If the matter is given study by responsible, qualified people, it will be a valuable guide for future action.

Let us hope all these things are viewed by the Board of Supervisors as guide posts for progress and not excuses for inaction.

SAVES $10,000 FOR TAXPAYERS

A brainstorm occurred to a Brooklyn engineer one day while he was thinging about ways to get some use out of waste materials.

From his 32 years' experience as a member of the Borough President's staff he was aware that more than 62,000 tons of sheet asphalt and other paving materials are produced annually for surfacing Brooklyn's streets. Sand and limestone used in the manufacture of the material were thrown away.

It seemed to him that the "waste" material could be used again. The idea worked—it saved the city $10,000 in the first year. For his civic-mindedness the engineer was given an award of $150.

Seldom does a person's concern for the common good pay off so well for himself. But a most effective means of improving any level of government is to look for ways to help everybody.

Use your God-given energies to make government more efficient, economical and respectful of spiritual values.

"That they who believe in God may be careful to excel in good works."
(Titus 3:8)

Let me be your instrument, Lord of all, in spreading interest, not only in the good of individuals, but in that of the State.

Airline Pilots Get A Buzzing —It's Just Talk From Customers

NEW YORK (AP)—Remarks an airplane pilot gets tired of hearing:

"Young man, are you the driver?"

"Remember, this is my first flight—so take it easy. I don't want any speeding."

"Let me out of here. I've changed my mind."

"The hostesses are busy, captain. Would you mind holding the baby while I fix this diaper?"

"Would you mind flying a little lower? My wife and I would like to see more of the countryside."

"I hear he and the copilot just sit up in that little room playing gin rummy. The automatic pilot does all the work."

"No, I'm not sure just what those stripes on his sleeve mean. I think he gets a stripe each time he brings the plane back.

"Hey, boy, isn't there something wrong with this plane? It doesn't have any propellers on it."

"Sir, would you mind sitting down here and explaining all about airplanes to my little grandson? I'm trying to talk him out of becoming a fireman."

"They say he studied flying in correspondence school—and ranked 29th in a class of 30."

"Listen, if Kansas City is fogged in and we have to fly on to Los Angeles, you're the one who's going to phone my wife. She'll never believe me."

"Have you tried your meal yet? The pilots must do the cooking on this airline."

"Sure, they're away from home a lot of the time—but what's wrong with that? And they get paid more than a U.S. senator."

"YEAH, HE'S the boss aloft all right, but he doesn't have as much authority as a ship's captain. He can't marry people."

"You call this real flying? Why, man, when I was flying a B-17 in the war, I used to let down the wheels and roll home on the flak."

"WHEN THEY GET these planes fully automatic, what'll you boys drive—trucks?"

"That was a nice ride, young man. Now, if you'll just help me get my bags into a taxi, I'll give you a quarter for yourself."

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Taxpayers League Insults Trustees

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Reference is made to your recent news article (Jan. 9) concerning the so-called "recall move" of Dixie School trustees by the Terra Linda Taxpayers League, and their reported decision to hold further recall proceedings in abeyance. The article quoted a member of the league as saying that a subcommittee had recommended "a wait and see attitude towards the trustees" and quoted him further as reporting:

"The future behavior of the school board regarding annexation should determine the league's course of action. If their attitude is consonant with the wishes of the people of Terra Linda, the Taxpayers League should then be willing to forget and forgive."

What unadulterated effrontery! As a former trustee and chairman of the Dixie Board, I hope you will permit me, through your columns, to make the following comments:

1. The people who serve on this and other school boards throughout our state give unselfishly of their time and efforts as a public service and often without so much as a brief word of appreciation from those most prone to criticize them. Further, when the decisions are being hammered out, these selfsame critics are seldom in attendance to participate in the discussions and voice their opinions.

2. Men and women who serve on such governing boards usually endeavor to reach a decision on problems which confront them only on the basis of the most accurate facts and background material available to them, as I am satisfied was the case with the Dixie trustees in the instant matter. To impugn their motives merely because one disagrees with their honest judgment and their decision made in good faith on a matter of vital concern to them, is, I submit, utterly reprehensible and devoid of that spirit of fair play which one likes to think is characteristic of the citizens of our great republic.

3. The so-called "wait and see attitude" of the Terra Linda Taxpayers League is nothing but a thinly veiled threat to keep the recall movement hanging over the heads of the school board members and professional staff. I predict that the vast majority of the citizens of Terra Linda will repudiate any such future movement, should it be reactivated, and they will thereby make it clear that our public officials will not be intimidated, and will carry out their duties with dignity and integrity, without fear of reprisals.

4. In spite of such unfounded attacks, I am confident that our school trustees will continue to be responsive to the wishes of the people, and will welcome any constructive criticism and suggestions.

Student Speaks On Book Problem

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

As a junior at Sir Francis Drake High School, I feel that I would like to express my opinion of "Catcher In The Rye" and "Of Mice and Men," especially to Mrs. Anne Smart and her followers.

The two books in question would certainly be obscene in the eyes of the public, if they took the books the same way you do, Mrs. Smart.

Many of the students at Sir Francis Drake have read these two books, most of them before Rev. Barkowsky and you, Mrs. Smart, decided to raise this unnecessary stink. Now because of this stink, many more of the students will read them, just to see what they are like.

You can walk down Fourth Street in San Rafael and hear practically every obscene word used in either of these two books. Does anyone ever pay considerable attention to these terrible words?

Children in the age group of seven or younger, I'm sure, pick up these words and horrify their parents when they use them, not understanding them in the slightest sense.

How can a person keep from coming into contact with these words now used by our modern society? The people that do not wish to use these words do not use them. A book that you read once and forget about cannot change your life, but the people you come into contact with every day can change your life.

The books "Of Mice and Men" and "The Catcher In The Rye" have been put on a recommended reading list for a purpose. That purpose being that the books are educational.

Juvenile delinquency has been on the downhill in Marin County now for several years. The high school students see much worse things than obscene language, some of these being drinking, drug addiction, and certainly worst of all, sex.

The books in question were put on the shelves because they can help teen-agers. The problems that the books bring up are the same things that anyone might come in contact with. Being confronted with the problems that someone else has had to overcome will show him or her how to avoid these problems. He will have them analyzed and know what to do about the situation when it arises.

If you're a parent, I'm sure you do the same for your child. Perhaps your method is showing how Christ and others also important in the Bible came into their problems and solved them. This is essentially why the books "Of Mice and Men" and "The Catcher In The Rye" are put on the library shelves.

I ask you what is wrong with that?

A sporting gentleman rented a horse and set out for a canter in the park. Unfortunately, the horse fell down, so the sporting gentleman went back to the stable and selected another horse. That one fell down too.

The sporting gentleman angrily reported his misadventures to the stablemaster. "Nothing to get upset about," soothed that worthy. "Just go to the back of the stables. You'll find about 50 more horses, lined up there. Take any one that suits your fancy—but don't take the one in the middle—or they'll ALL fall down!"

Possible incorporation of the Kentfield-Greenbrae area was under discussion by the Kentfield Civic League.

Total abolition of tolls on the Golden Gate Bridge was editorially demanded by the Independent-Journal on the ground that San Franciscans would immediately develop greater desire to live in Marin County, and property values here would go up. Though taxes might go up to compensate for lack of bridge tolls, it was pointed out that San Francisco would suffer most as it had 85 per cent of the bridge district.

Marin gives one such a feeling of security. People are so helpful, so willing to protect you. Kindness and light, sweetness and goodness, hearts of gold.

There is a soft and sickening paternal interest into which you can sink and smother. It takes no effort.

Now if one were to write a book about an architect named Frank Lloyd Wright . . .

ONE MIGHT SAY he had brains and guts. He followed lines and curves which were not in tune with sweet gingerbread. He was a character, with a wide sailed hat, flowing cloak and patrician face.

He tried this and he tried that and some people had nerve enough to try what he wanted to sell.

He was not the greatest architect. He was a fine showman. He also occasionally is known for drafty floors, unwieldly floor plans and museums in which there is no place to contemplate a painting in a lost world where there is no vertical.

He also designed some lovely buildings.

He was a character of the first order, a man able to weld fierce loyalties, unremitting hatred and laughter at his buildings.

NOW WRITE A BOOK and tell all the details of Wright's personal life, and of his "good" and "bad" buildings.

Now Mrs. Anne Smart and Rev. Michael Barkowska might not want county high school students to read such a book. This was a pretty subversive character.

They might want to protect the students from getting the book in a library. Or they might want to protect them from digging out the juicy passages in some other "subversive" or "anti-religious" book. They would protect you.

Then there's Novato's Paul Brindel, protecting people right and left from anti-religionists, book fairs which might make money for someone, tax grabs and gambling. He is a master at using the public press for his own ends.

NOW CONSIDER the civic center, designed by Wright and his associates. So that after wrangling and talk, years of public debate, vote and counter-vote, accusations and condemnations, the decision was made. Say a million, two million dollars was poured into its concrete and steel.

Say that within minutes a decision was made to stop work. Say that the public had no inkling that the decision was coming that day. Those three supervisors who made the decision were protecting the taxpayers of this county.

Now with these three citizens and the three supervisors, there really is no need for a board of supervisors. The county could be run calmly and smoothly under the righteous six.

You could sit back, relax, and let someone else worry.

Some Under-The-Surface Crises Get Kennedy's Prompt Attention

WASHINGTON — Those who know the thinking of John F. Kennedy are aware that he is anxiously concerned about critical matters on which he must act energetically upon taking office tomorrow.

For the most part, these are not the obvious crises getting most of the current headlines. These are the under-the-surface crises. For them there is no quick or easy answer, but they could become unmanageable if Kennedy's earliest actions are off-key.

I feel sure I am accurate in reporting that this is the way they look to the President-elect:

U. S.-SOVIET NEGOTIATIONS — Kennedy is fully alert to the fact that Premier Khrushchev is baldly using the defeat of Vice President Nixon to propagandize the Russian side of the feud with President Eisenhower over the U-2. Kennedy is not impressed and he is not amused by Khrushchev's volunteered interpretation of the November vote as an "apology" by the American people for the U-2 flights and as a signal that the President-elect must believe that Eisenhower was pursuing "aggressive, war policies" as Khrushchev charged. He doesn't believe any such thing.

SUMMIT DILEMMA — How to avoid being trapped into a premature, unprepared, harmful summit and how to show to the Soviets — and the world — that he is cordially willing to negotiate meaningfully, if Moscow offers any solid evidence it wants to do so.

Kennedy will certainly be glad to have his representatives explore with Ambassador Menshikov whether the Soviets have any new attitudes and proposals. But Kennedy is not attracted to the idea of vague talk about tensions, or to the idea of negotiation for its own sake.

U. S. ECONOMY—Kennedy expects to face a budgetary crisis soon after he takes office. He anticipates that the June 1961-to-June 1962 budget which Eisenhower will present to Congress will be technically in balance. But for two reasons the Kennedy administration believes it must count on its being a "fictitious" balance. It will be figured on higher postal rates and gasoline taxes, which no recent Congress has been willing to vote and on revenues which the still declining economy will unlikely produce.

AMERICAN OPINION—In face of the dangers in Laos, the Communist beachhead in Cuba, the chaos in the Congo, the Soviet pressures on Berlin, the need to increase our military strength to deter limited war—all this apart from domestic needs—the U. S. is confronted with tasks and uncertainties which will require an unusually alert public opinion and a degree of national unity hard for a narrowly elected President to achieve.

To create this alerted public opinion and to weld this national unity will be Kennedy's overriding purpose in the hope that conflicting pressure groups, whether labor or management or other blocs, will be willing to put the national interest first. This may make him a one-term President—and he knows it.

THE TRANSITION—It has gone well. There is no doubt that the President-elect feels that President Eisenhower has gone the extra mile and more to bring the new government into office under the best—and the best-informed—circumstances.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

By HARRY CRAFT

New Man Joins Architect Firm Whose Members Are From Marin

As partnerships and firms increase the magnitude of their business operations, their names frequently become complex and occupy more letterhead space. You've seen it happen with attorneys, advertising agencies, in the merging of corporations, and more recently with architects.

There's not much help for it. Where several professional individuals are concerned their separate reputations add to the stature of the firm as a whole. And in the current trend toward specialization it usually leads them into working as a team, each handling some particular phase of a project.

It's not exactly mass production. A better term would be co-ordinated production.

A case in point is that of architects Bolton White, Jack Jack Hermann and Allen Steinau — all Marin County men who have their place of business in San Francisco. The firm began shortly after the war as White and Hermann, with Steinau joining it a few years later.

Another name has now been added — that of Don Hatch whose architectural works in both North and South America have gained him considerable repute in the large construction field.

The new firm of Hatch, White, Hermann and Steinau may be a tongue-twister—but remember it. We believe you'll find this architectural foursome becoming increasingly prominent in industrial and commercial building—much of it, no doubt, in Marin.

GROWTH PROPERTIES, a corporation recently formed by a group of Marin business and professional men for acquiring and developing investment properties in the Bay Area, has made its first two purchases, totaling approximately $420,000.

A one-acre parcel containing newly completed office and warehouse facilities in South San Francisco was purchased and leased this week to Rome Cable Corp., a subsidiary of Aluminum Co. of America.

In Marin, Growth Properties has acquired seven and one-half acres zoned for multiple family residential use opposite Hamilton Air Force Base on Highway 101. It will be developed into two-story garden apartment buildings with about 200 units which the firm will retain and lease.

Officers of the corporation are Edgar T. Lindner, resident manager of Henry F. Swift and Co., president; Charles Howard Allen of Frank Howard Allen and Son Real Estate, vice president; San Rafael attorney Robert W. Elliott, secretary, and Jack M. Goldthwaite, vice president of the First National Bank of San Rafael, treasurer.

FISH—WHOLESALE. Marin Sea Foods, formerly at 511 Francisco Blvd., San Rafael, has moved into its new quarters at 19 Lovell Avenue off Irwin Street.

Premises are wider and though not as deep, space will allow better arrangement of equipment.

"Now all we need is more fish," says partner Gordon Balzan.

Catches are skimpy off the coast. There is more demand than supply at the moment.

Harvard University scientists have developed a clock reported to have an accuracy of one part in a quadrillion.

Marin County Savings-Loan Reports Increased Activity

Increases in savings of 47 per cent and net assets of almost 42 per cent for the past year were reported Tuesday night at the annual meeting of the Marin County Savings and Loan Assn. board of directors.

Fred F. Enemark, executive vice president and manager of the association, said reasons for the increases were the new location, the 4½ per cent current interest rate and the growth of the savings and loan industry.

The board also unanimously retained the board of directors with Jordan L. Martinelli, president, and John F. Ryan and Dr. Mathew S. Hazeltine, vice presidents.

Directors re-elected were Carlos R. Freitas, Jack J. Craemer, Johannnes Petersen and Enemark.

Are We Preparing Our Children For Difficult Teen Years Ahead?

The teen years are the hardest we have with our children. All other years are tame, by comparison. Have you discovered that?

However, even the teens needn't be too awful. If you prepare for them properly you'll survive.

Here are ways to prepare for your kids' adolescence:

Begin with love while they're babies. They must know you love them all to pieces. They'll love you in return. Then add discipline. Raise them to respect you and follow your rules. Be reasonably consistent with them. Always use the mildest punishments that will teach the needed lessons. Use rewards, but use them carefully.

When they're 5 or 6, their neighborhood becomes important. They begin to copy the children around them. Do their buddies lie, steal, disobey? Then they will too. Don't stay in a bad neighborhood. But are the neighbor kids nice? Do they come from good homes? Get along well with their folks? Then stay where you are.

Church matters too. Raise your children in a church with an active children's program. Have them take part. They'll gain high ideals. They'll have the strength which faith gives. And they'll run with good companions.

When they're 10, 11 or 12, start giving mixed parties. Help them to be popular. Teach them how to get along with the opposite sex. Create a safe but satisfying social life.

When they reach the teens, be patient. Be a good listener. Avoid rows whenever possible. But lay down the law when disaster impends. Good luck!

Ninth Season Of Music For Minors Slated

"Music for Minors" will open its ninth season of music fun for children on Jan. 28, according to Barry Mineah, general chairman.

Sponsored by the symphony guild of Marin in cooperation with the Marin county superintendent of schools, the programs are presented in two performances, one at 10 a.m. and the other at 11 a.m., at San Rafael High School.

"Music As Humor" is the theme Mineah has selected for the first program, which he will direct himself.

The two other programs planned are "music as dance" on Feb. 25, under direction of Dick Ford, and "music as entertainment" on March 25, under direction of Art Eisler.

Tickets are available from Mrs. Charles Clarke of Kentfield.

Group To Meet On School Fund

The committee of 40 is expected to reach a decision at its meeting at 8 p.m. today on the means—whether by increased tax or bonds or both—to raise between $600,000 and $800,000 for additional classrooms for the Mill Valley School District.

The committee, made up of Mill Valley citizens, has held two exploratory meetings. It will submit its recommendations to the school board by Jan. 23, Supt. G. Robert McConnell said.

Honor Society Elects Officers

Jeff Skov has been elected president of the Redwood High School Honor Society.

Other new officers are Ned Griffith, vice president; Kathy Scott, secretary; Barbara Burns, recording secretary, and Jerry Cahill, treasurer.

The honor society is composed of students who have earned a "B" average or better and have at least 10 activity hours.

The new officers plan to select a life membership pin and decide on a new system of processing applications.

WITH UNCLE'S HELP

Marin Man Wants To Dig Out Gold

By CARLETON WILLIAMS

A Larkspur gold miner claims to have the solution to the problem of the empty cupboard at Fort Knox.

Don Bennett, who last April fell into a hole in Idaho City, Ida., and came up smelling of precious metals, says he is now the owner of a 302-acre claim producing ore so valuable he hires a man to "ride shotgun" on it when he takes it to the smelter.

His problem is, he says, that he cannot afford to work it, labor and equipment costs being what they are.

Inasmuch as Uncle Sam has a problem — that of a shortage of the yellow stuff — Bennett proposes to share his good fortune with Uncle, thereby solving the problems of both.

In a recent letter to Sen. Clair Engle, Bennett said "I would be very happy to turn this property over to any agency of the government on a small percentage basis, or possibly a cost-plus program . . . like our wartime shipbuilding. I feel the emergency is just as great today."

Engle was chosen as his emissary, Bennett said, because of a recent statement of the Senator which he which charged, "We are short of gold at Fort Knox — but there's gold in them thar hills out west."

Bennett said he expects to hear from Engle "any day now."

"I we don't do something, our neighbors Mrs. Smith (Elizabeth Rudel Smith of Kentfield, newly appointed U. S. treasurer) will be writing checks against insufficient funds," Bennett warned.

It is the first venture into mining for Bennett and his wife, Marjorie, who owns the mine with him, but he claims an affinity to mining through his family tree. His great-grandfather was a mine owner in Cripple Creek about 75 years ago and his wife's uncle was a partner in the same operation.

Bennett literally stumbled into the mine last spring as he was hiking near Boise. The property belonged to a old sourdough named Danny Morgan who grubbed out a living from the property while living in a cardboard shack.

Bennett threw in with Morgan, and when the old man died recently, Bennett became the owner.

At present he has leased out about 20 acres to a mining company, but does not want to let go of any more of the property to private buyers.

The gold ore, he claims, assayed out at $1,350 per ton, making it worth, according to his hopeful estimates, about $50,000 a carload. Two carloads could be hauled out in 60 days, he said.

In addition to the gold, he says the silver content runs about $15 a ton of ore, "plus other rare earth and strategic metals."

All he needs to work it himself is about $20,000 he estimates.

But, he says, he is not greedy.

He is perfectly willing to let Uncle Sam work it — and give him a trifling 10 per cent of the take.

Peace Officers Planning Dance

About 150 persons are expected to attend the Marin County Peace Officers' annual installation dinner-dance Saturday night at the Wye Club in San Rafael.

A cocktail hour at 6:30 p.m. will be followed by dinner and installation of new officers headed by President Earl Cummesky. Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court will administer the oath of office.

Judge N. Charles Brusatori of Marin Superior Court will introduce the outgoing president, John R. Flor. Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos is master of ceremonies.

Tickets for the dinner-dance are available at the sheriff's office and all police departments, Cummesky announced.

Pupils To Hear Africa Lecture

Pupils at Fairfax's Central School will hear a lecture on Africa by Mrs. Edith Hofmann of 263 Forrest Avenue, Fairfax, tomorrow at 9 a.m.

Mrs. Hofmann, former supervisor of parent education at Drake High School, will report on her travels in South and Central Africa from September, 1959, to March, 1960.

She visited the Union of South Africa, Southern Rhodesia, and Northern Rhodesia, including such cities as Johannesburg, Salisbury and Livingston, native compounds and communities including Sophiatown, Victoria Falls, and game reserves.

The lecture at Central is one of a series of such talks Mrs. Hofmann has been making in the schools of Marin.

Water District Board Lashes Cost Excess

Directors of the North Marin Water District have fired off a protest to the Sonoma County Board of Supervisors on what they term $15,000 to $20,000 excess costs in a planned joint water line.

Directors of the district said in a letter that connections proposed by Petaluma are larger than needed for the next 20 years, the period this first stage of construction is aimed at serving.

The North Marin District and Sonoma County have agreed to construction of a pipeline which would bring Russian River water to Novato. The Marin district will finance its line from the Sonoma border to Novato and will pay a percentage of the cost of the entire project over the years.

Directors of the North Marin district said in a letter that the one 12-inch and four 16-inch connections being built into the line in Petaluma are larger in proportion to the Petaluma area than are the Marin installations to the Marin area. They suggest two 16-inch or four 12-inch connections, which would be used for future line extension.

The letter also asks that future residents be charged connection fee to aid in paying for the connections and says that 478 feet of 16-inch pipe not in the original contract is planned to be laid.

Total extra costs to the North Marin district will be $15,000 to $20,000, directors contend.

Voters of the Marin district have approved a $3,790,000 bond issue to finance a 10-year expansion and replacement program.

Directors of the district, Sonoma supervisors and representatives from Petaluma are expected to meet in an attempt to iron out the disagreements.

Sausalito Music Festival Meet Set

The first meeting of the Sausalito Music Festival will be held Jan. 24, at the Village Fair record shop, according to Louis Yagow, originator of the festival idea.

Anyone who would like to help is invited to the meeting, at 8 p.m. The first concert under the auspices of the festival was given by Mill Valley concert pianist Istvan Nadas.

Academy Exams Slated April 1

A competitive examination for Marin youths who wish appointment to the California Maritime Academy will be held at the academy in Vallejo April 1, State Sen. John F. McCarthy announced today. No fee is required to take the examination.

McCarthy said the applicant from Marin with the highest passing score on the tests will be his nominee for admittance to the academy. Others with passing scores will be eligible for admittance if there are vacancies in the quota for the entering class.

Under state regulation, legislators in odd numbered districts make appointments in odd numbered years. So both McCarthy and Marin-Sonoma Assemblyman William T. Bagley will be able to nominate candidates.

Applicants wishing to take the examination should write Senator McCarthy or Assemblyman Bagley at the State Capitol, Sacramento, before March 1.

Bond Issue Rejected

SANTA ROSA (AP)—Santa Rosa voters rejected a seven-million-dollar bond issue Tuesday by a 2 to 1 margin. Funds would have been used for a 5.5-million-dollar road project, replacing the city's condemned and evacuated library, and a city corporation yard.

Marin YMCA Slates Annual Meet Monday

The YMCA of Marin will hold its 14th annual meeting Monday evening in Alexander Hall of the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo.

Guest speaker will be County Administrator Alan Bruce, whose topic will be "The Challenge of the Future to Private Agencies in Marin County."

Master of ceremonies for the dinner meeting will be Leland H. Jordan, vice chairman of the local YMCA board of managers and former county counsel.

Among other participants will be Terry Wade of Greenbrae, youth governor for the YMCA model legislature to be held next month. Wade visited Sacramento this week and had interviews with Lt. Gov. Glenn W. Anderson, Marin's legislators and other solons interested in legislation which will come before the youth legislature Feb. 3-5. He also inspected "his" offices and other facilities to be used by the YMCA boys and girls.

Hugh Allen from the San Francisco Y staff will outline plans for the future of the Marin YMCA at Monday's meeting. Advisers, board and advisory council members, and inter-club council officers will be recognized during the evening's program.

Maritime Academy Member Renamed

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Ernest N. Kettenhofen of San Anselmo has been reappointed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown to the board of the California Maritime Academy.

It will be the first full four-year term for Kettenhofen. He was appointed last May to succeed Hugh Gallagher of San Francisco, who resigned because of ill health. The new term runs until Jan. 15, 1965.

A former merchant seaman, Kettenhofen was graduated from the academy in 1941. He has been active in real estate and land development in Marin and Northern California since leaving the sea after World War II service. He is a Republican.

Selection Due

The Tamalpais Valley Fire District commission will select a commissioner at its meeting at 8 p. m. Tuesday to fill the vacancy left by J. A. Stuber, who resigned to leave the state, president Donald J. Taylor said today. Applications for the position are being accepted at the Tamalpais Valley firehouse.

'GOVERNOR' SEATED — Terry Wade of Greenbrae, elected governor of the annual YMCA Youth in Government program, tries out the chair of acting-Gov. Glenn M. Anderson. Wade will preside over the three-day "legislative session" of the program Feb. 3, 4 and 5 in Sacramento. (AP Wirephoto)
